SHIPWRECKED MEN SAEF.

Steamer Albino Brings to New York the Captain and Crew of the Abandoned British Freight Steamer.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The German Soloman steamer Albino, Capt. Kudenhol, which arrived from Hamburg today, brought to port Capt. Parker and twenty-one shipwrecked men belonging to the British freight steamer Kentigern, which they abandoned at sea February 16 in a sinknig condition. Speaking of the sinking of the ship, Capt. Parker said:

"We sailed from Portland Sunday, February 1, bound for Limerick, with a full cargo of grain. Tuesday, while running in a heavy sea the steering gear became disabled, but was repaired. It was not strong enough, however, to withstand the violent gale of the following Saturday, and it broke down again. An effort was made to connect the handgear, but, owing to the darkness and terrific sea it could not be repaired, and on the morning of the fourteenth we discovered the hand steering gear broken to pieces, the wheel gone and a complete wreck.

"By Monday the gale had increased to a hurricane, the cabins were flooded, and the ship was lying at an angle of 30 deg. The rudder was adrift, moving from side to side violently, and it was impossible to get any lashing to hold it firm. The steamer Albino finally came in sight, and urgent signals were made to attract her attention. The Albino took all hands on board. The chief officer of the Kentigern had his arm broken.

"The Kentigern was built in Glasgow in 1888, and was owned by Troop & Sons."

BATTLE OF THE OUTPOSTS.

Japanese Drive Back the Russian Advance Guard on the Yalu, Killing Over Two Thousand Men.

The Czar Orders Investigation of the Port Arthur Affair—Commissariat Has Practically Broken Down—Delay in Transportation.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's correspondent sends the following:

ST. PETERSBURG, Sunday. It is reported that the Russians' advance guard on the Yalu has been driven back with the loss of over two thousand.

The Emperor has ordered an inquiry into the Port Arthur affair, and many dismissals and degradations will result. Viceroy Alexieff is looked upon with disappointment.

From high military authority I have it that the commissariat has given proof of such defective organization that, as the authority puts it, the service has partly broken down, which at this juncture is a very serious matter. Many of the necessary adjuncts of field service have been overlooked; for instance, the portable kitchens, for which a well-known German firm here received a rush order at its own prices for 1500.

All possible artillerists are being dispatched to the front, they, to their disappointment, being notified that they will be used for defending the railroad. For many unexpected reasons, the transportation of troops to the front is much slower than expected, the anticipated average of 7000 per diem having fallen to 3000. It is thus anticipated that, so far [illegible] there will be considerable delay in taking action, and if hostilities are commenced soon, it will certainly not be due to the initiative of this country.

RUSSIANS LOSE 2500 MEN.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Telegraph's Tokio correspondent cables: "A battle has occurred between the advance outposts of Russians and Japanese on the Yalu, resulting in the Russians being driven back with the loss of 2500 men."

FIRING OFF PORT ARTHUR.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORT ARTHUR, Feb. 21—Sounds of desultory firing at sea are heard almost nightly, and this morning firing was again heard. This is doubtless due to the attempted approach of Japanese torpedo boats, but nothing serious has developed. The garrison is in excellent spirits, and is firmly convinced of the ultimate success of the Russian arms.

The Novkrai prints a long article, invoking historical precedents to prove the illegality of the Japanese declaration that fuel and victuals will in all cases be treated as contraband of war. The paper describes Japan's attitude as presumption, and urges the neutral powers to disregard it.

CHINESE TAKE A HAND.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SHANGHAI, Feb. 21.—Urged by the Japanese consul here, the Taotai ordered the Russian gunboat Mandjur to leave the harbor before 5 o'clock this afternoon, the order, however, being ignored. It is said that a Japanese squadron has been ordered to enforce the Taotai's demands and to enable the Japanese steamship companies to resume service between Japan and Shanghai.

RUSSIANS PURSUE A STEAMER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ADEN, Feb. 21.—The Peninsula and Oriental Company's steamer Mongolia encountered, Saturday night, 460 miles north of Aden, a Russian battleship and four torpedo-boat destroyers. After the vain attempt of a destroyer to cut off the Mongolia, all the warships gave chase, but, being unable to overtake her, they signaled her to stop. The Mongolia obeyed, and the destroyer, after a close scrutiny, signaled "Beg to be excused." The fleet is evidently hoping to capture Japanese ships.

AMERICANS IN SAFETY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEOUL, Feb. 20, 4:40 p.m. (Eastern time.)—The Americans employed in the mining concessions in Northern Korea reached Au Ju safely on their way to Ping Yang, where they will remain until the river opens, unless developments compel all foreigners to leave there for Seoul.

TURKEY LENDS EAR TO THE BEAR'S IDEA.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's correspondent at St. Petersburg cables:

"The feature of the moment is an extremely serious one, taken with regard to the prospect of international complications. I am in a position to tell you that in spite of ridicule cast upon the idea from various sources, once again the Porte has lent a willing ear to the diplomatic suggestions of Russia that the Black Sea fleet should one day be found unexpectedly in the Mediterranean, Turkey being assured that this fact once accomplished, not one of the powers would have a word to say in objection. If they did, Russia would be answerable.

"Trans-Caucasian troops are being mobilized and ordered to occupy the frontiers of Turkestan and Persia, this being a strong reminder to England that Russia is ready for war over these two frontiers. A council of war has been held here, where the possibilities of international complications were freely discussed, and with the result that it was decided that, if not inevitable, they are so probable that Russia must be fully prepared to meet them. This forms a distinct note in the ideas of the present moment."

RUSSIA WITH HAY.

Count Cassini Says She Gladly and Willingly Favored the Localizing of Hostilities and Respect for the Neutrality of China.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—"Russia gladly and willingly favored the suggestion of Secretary Hay that as far as possible, the belligerents in the Far Eastern war localize hostilities and respect the neutrality of China, in the interest of a continuance of peaceful intercourse of the rest of the world. My government expressed the conviction that Mr. Hay's suggestion was prompted by motives of the highest humanity, and was mutually advantageous to the belligerents."

This statement was made by Count Cassini, the Russian Ambassador, in the course of a conversation with a representative of the Associated Press at the embassy today. The Ambassador spoke in general of the Far Eastern situation. Although the negotiations on the neutrality proposition have been carried on almost entirely between the several foreign governments addressed and the American envoys accreditied to them, the weight of the work of the Russian Ambassador at Washington in the counsels of His Majesty was strongly influential in the shaping of Russia's reply.

As soon as the note was addressed to the Russian government, Count Cassini was advised of the fact by Secretary Hay, and a long and earnest conversation followed on the motives of the Washington government in initiating this move, unique in diplomacy. To the frankness of this conversation, a frankness made possible by the cordial and intimate relations which Mr. Hay and Count Cassini have always enjoyed at Washington, is largely due, it is said, the prompt response of the Russian government, which is materially concerned with many matters of the gravest importance, some of them demanding the most speedy attention, such as war measures.

FRIENDSHIP CONTINUES.

"It is fortunate," continued the Ambassador, "that, whatever may be the feeling here and there in the United States of sympathy for Japan, the traditional, and so far as Russia is concerned, the highly-prized friendly relations between Washington and St. Petersburg governments in no way have been interfered with. Every mail brings to the embassy some fifty to one hundred contradictions in the forms of offers of assistance, medical and military, of the statement that Russia is without friends in this country.

"It is so in this country as in every other, that the smaller nation in the struggle can count on a certain amount of sympathy arising solely from the fact of its minority, but it is a tribute to the fairness of your government that the official conduct of your government certainly has been all that every belligerent could expect in the preservation of the strict neutrality which the President directed shall be observed by his people.

"So numerous have these offers of medical and other aid become that I have felt it my duty to bring them to the attention of my government. It is possible that, in recognition of the kindly spirit of humanity and friendliness which is evidenced by the American physicians who have offered their assistance, my government may find a way to accept some of them and that American physicians and nurses may aid us in caring for the wounded in the Far Eastern war. I am daily expecting an answer from St. Petersburg on this point."

REMOVAL OF CENSORSHIP.

"What will be the effect of the removal of the censorship on all news from St. Petersburg to the outside world?" the Ambassador was asked. He replied:

"It is believed that this will effectively diminish the number of canards which have been secretly sent from Russia, and especially to England and the United States, about my country. Censored dispatches were wrongly considered abroad as having the approval of the government. Nothing could have been further from the truth, unless it was the additional false impression that uncensored dispatches represented the facts as they were. With the censorship removed, it is hoped that the

WASHINGTON.

FINAL VOTE ON TREATY.

Senate Will Solve Canal Problem Tomorrow.

Both Houses Turning to Appropriation Bills.

Postoffice and Objectionable Ads—Forest Reserve.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Panama Canal question will continue to hold exclusive attention of the Senate until next Tuesday, when voting will begin on the treaty. It is probable that the doors of the chamber will be closed the most of the time the treaty is under consideration, Monday and Tuesday. Senator Morgan has prepared a number of amendments, and if offered, they will be presented in executive session. Mr. Morgan probably will speak on some of his amendments, but the prospect is that very few other Senators will desire further to discuss the treaty or any amendments to it. All amendments will be voted down. There will be only sixteen or seventeen votes or pairs against the ratification of the convention. Senator Hoar probably will make another speech before the vote is taken.

With the Panama question disposed of, the Senate will take up appropriation bills, giving preference to the Agricultural Bill. There are features in this measure which will arouse opposition, and it is expected that it will be debated at some length. By the time the Agricultural Bill has been passed, the Legislative, Executive and Judicial Appropriation Bill will have been reported, to be soon followed by the Naval, Pension and Army bills.

Monday being Washington's Birthday, the Senate will listen to the reading of Washington's Farewell Address, by Senator Heyburn of Idaho.

The House has the Naval Appropriation Bill under debate, and at the proper time it is probable that a rule will be brought in making the item in the bill providing for a training station on the Great Lakes in order. It is expected that a contest will ensue over the location of the station. Notice has been given by Mr. Hitchcock of Nebraska that he will propose an amendment to the Naval Bill providing for the construction of a government armor-plate factory. The Indian and the District Appropriation bills will follow the Naval Bill, and there is some expectation that all of these will be passed this week by the House.

At the first lull during the week, the bill providing for a committee to investigate and report on the shipping industry may be called up, under a rule limiting debate to a few hours.

Following the Indian and District bills will come the Postoffice Appropriation Bill, but it may not be ready for consideration before next week. If the appropriation bills are all out of the way by Friday, the private claims bills or Pension Bill, may have a show.

Mr. Williams, the minority leader, served notice yesterday that he would endeavor to secure the reading tomorrow of Washington's Farewell Address and then have an immediate adjournment.

PHILIPPINE DEVELOPMENT.

COMMERCE INCREASED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The development of the Philippines, commercially and industrially, for the first nine months of 1903 was the subject of a special bulletin by the Bureau of Insular Affairs. It is shown that both in imports and exports there was an increase compared with a corresponding period in the preceding year. Heavy exports of hemp and copra, offsetting heavy imports of rice, explained the increase. During the period named the imports were $26,601,610, against $24,338,322 for 1902. The exports amounted to $22,563,128, an increase of nearly four and one-half million dollars. The rice imports were the only ones that increased, and there was a falling-off in general trade, the United States losing 10 per cent. and the United Kingdom 16 per cent., while Spain has only two-thirds of the amount of her trade in 1902.

United States exports increased from $7,232,411 to $9,368,066, and the trade with Spain was practically the same, but a small part of this is carried under the American flag, and all but 5 per cent. of the general trade of the Islands is done in foreign bottoms.

OBJECTIONABLE "ADS."

POSTOFFICE AGAINST THEM.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—The Postoffice Department has begun a crusade against the printing of objectionable advertisements and stories in newspapers and periodicals throughout the country. The action is based on section 3893 of the Revised Statutes, which imposes a fine of not exceeding $5000 or imprisonment for not over five years, or both, for any person depositing in the mails, or aiding in circulating through the mails, any obscene print, pamphlet, etc. It is proposed to amend the law to include vulgar advertisements and other printed matter.

Under the new policy, a number of papers containing questionable matter have been thrown out of the mails under the telegraphic orders to the postmasters, and a campaign will be waged against objectionable medical advertisements which are being widely published.

FOREST RESERVE LANDS.

BILLS LIMITING THE SAME.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—Senator Hansbrough has introduced a bill which provides that no forest reservation hereafter shall be created covering any lands within the limits of any railroad grant. It is provided further that where a tract of land covered by an unperfected bonafide claim or by a patent is included within the limits of a public forest reservation hereafter created, the settler or owner may relinquish the tract to the government and receive in return full compensation as may be agreed upon between the Secretary of the Interior and the party so relinquishing.

Any exchange of lands which hereafter may be surrendered within a forest reserve heretofore created shall be allowed only for lands of a like character, whether such exchange is made through the medium of land scrip, right of selection or otherwise.

SKINNER'S GREAT SUCCESS.

TRADE WITH ALYSSINIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—How the United States has come into trade relations with a new region containing 10,000,000 people is briefly and modestly told in the report to Mr. Loomis, the assistant Secretary of State, of Robert P. Skinner, the American Consul-General at Marseilles, France, on his highly-successful mission to Abyssinia, last November, for the purpose of negotiating with King Menelik a trade treaty and to collect information about the commercial resource of that country. As a result of this mission, Mr. Skinner negotiated a treaty which, if acceptable, will secure for the United States the most-favored-nation privileges in Ethiopia and will guarantee to American citizens and merchandise immunity from discrimination in rates on all public roads and lines of communication.

In addition, Skinner prevailed upon King Menelik to accept an invitation for his country to participate in the St. Louis Exposition, and preliminary arrangements for a comprehensive exhibit have been made. The King will send during the coming summer a commission of distinguished and representative men who will have charge of the exhibit.

Mr. Skinner, after narrating these facts, says: "Acting on the part of the Interior Department, I have secured a collection of the seeds of the most important crops peculiar to Ethiopia, a number of which may be found available in the exploitation of the uncultivated western lands of the United States now being made available by the extension of our irrigation system. I have also in hand material for a report on the agricultural resources of Abyssinia. The Agricultural Department particularly desired to secure a collection of wild coffee seeds for experimental purposes. These could not be obtained during my visit, but have been ordered, and ultimately will be forwarded. Such a collection could be found only in Kaffa, a remote province, access to which involves a long and expensive journey."

PREPARING FOR MANEUVERS.

GUANTANAMO (Cuba) Feb. 21.—A dozen United States warships are here preparing for the maneuvers. Lieutenant-Commander William H. Allen of the converted gunboat Vixen has been ordered to command the monitor Amphitrite and all of the officers of the Vixen have been ordered to the monitor with the exception of Lieut. William R. Cushman. Ensign John Jackson and Surgeon Richardson, who will retain their quarters on the gunboat.

The Vixen will act as a tender to the fleet. Lieutenant-Commander E. H. Tillman of the Amphitrite, Lieut. Halstead of the Scorpion and Ensign C. Cook of the Aberenda are homeward bound. The colliers Evelyn, Doris and Louis Luckenback are coaling the battleships for the maneuvers which will begin Tuesday next.

MEXICO AND PANAMA.

CITY OF MEXICO, Feb. 21.—The government official organ denies that Mexico has addressed a note to Chile, expressing itself favorably regarding recognition of the republic of Panama, but intimating a desire to extend that recognition jointly with the government of Chile, in order that it might carry greater moral force. The official paper says the foregoing lacks foundation, for the Mexican government has addressed no note on the subject to the government of Chile. It has done nothing more than to endeavor, through its representatives, to ascertain the sentiment and policy of other governments of this continent regarding the matter, without endeavoring to act in concert with any of them.

JEALOUS WOMAN'S CRIME.

LA JUNTA (Colo.) Feb. 21.—In a fit of jealousy, Miss Lou Adams, shot and killed Patrick H. King, Jr., a ranchman in the European Hotel here. Miss Adams is 26 years of age, and is the daughter of Mrs. Maggie Adams of Garden City, Kan.

WAR NEWS AFTER MIDNIGHT.

VELKOFF AT HARBIN.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 22.—[By Atlantic Cable.] In a dispatch from Harbin, the correspondent of the Matin says Gen. Velkoff, who is on guard on the Magnolia line, has arrived there with Gen. Dasilevevsky of the Engineer Corps.

Half of the Japanese fleet, the correspondent also says, is covering the landing of troops in Korea and the other half is seeking the Vladivostok squadron.

NEWS VIA LONDON.

SEVERE FIGHTING EXPECTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, Feb. 22. [By Atlantic Cable.] the Cabinets are still absolutely silent with regard to the progress of the war, but there are vague rumors of land fighting. From a reliable quarter the Morning Post's Chefoo correspondent says he learns that tens of thousands of Japanese are advancing by forced marches from various parts of Korea on the Yalu River, and that severe fighting is expected shortly.

The announcement that Gen. Kodima has been replaced in the Japanese Cabinet by Mr. Kashikawa is regarded as meaning that Gen. Kodima is about to take command of the Japanese land forces. Kodima, who is Japan's leading general, did splendid work during the Chino-Japanese War.

It is said that Viceroy Alexieff has asked the Ministery of Marine to send him officers who are not too young and admirals who are not too old, of whom he already had too many.

A Port Arthur dispatch received at St. Petersburg reports the Russian cruiser Novik had been repaired and had left her dock.

The Standard's Kieff correspondent hears that the Caucusus and Turkestan armies are to be mobilized. He adds that the rumor is not confirmed officially, but says if it is true it can only be interpreted as a veiled threat against India in certain emergencies.

The correspondent at Tien-Tsin of the Standard reports an attack of 500 Chinese "brigands" on the Russian post at Foo Chow as probably an attempt to wreck the railway.

KUROPATKIN TO LEAD.

RUSSIANS GREATLY PLEASED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The appointment of Gen. Kuropatkin, who was yesterday relieved of his functions as Minister of War, to the chief command of the Russian army in the Far East was gazetted this morning.

The appointment has been received with enthusiasm, and his leadership inspires complete confidence that there will be no mistake and that Russian arms will be carried to success on land.

Gen. Kuropatkin will be accompanied to the front by the Grand Dukes Boeris, Alexis, Nicholas and Michael Nikolaivitch. The Emperor and Empress gave a luncheon today to Gen. Kuropatkin and the Grand Dukes at the Alexandra palace, Tsarskoe Selo, and bade them farewell. The exact mission of Grand Duke Alexis is unknown, but it is undoubtedly an important one, as he has been in supreme command of the Russian navy, as president of the Board of Admiralty taking an active part in the negotiations preceding hostilities. He presided at the special council which prepared Russia's undelivered reply to Japan.

The action of the commander of the United States gunboat Vicksburg, in declining to join the commanders of other foreign warships in a protest against the attack of the Japanese fleet at Chemulpo which resulted in the sinking of the Russian cruisers Variag and Korietz promises to cause much discussion here.

An immense congregation attended the requiem today for Count Neirod, the only officer killed aboard the Variag. The Count was a great favorite in St. Petersburg society.

OBITUARY.

Commander William P. Randall.

NEW BEDFORD (Mass.) Feb. 21.—Commander William P. Randall, U.S.N., retired, died at his home in this city today, aged 71 years. Assigned as acting master on the frigate Cumberland during the Civil War, he participated in the battle with the Merrimac, and was credited with having fired the last shot from the frigate before she was sent to the bottom. After the war he entered the navy as an ensign, and served in various capacities until 1882, when he was retired. During the Spanish War he served as executive officer of the receiving ship Wabash.

Mrs. Ben H. Hill.

SCORING MAYOR HARRISON.

In several pulpits today Mayor Harrison and his administration were scored for the laxity with which municipal affairs were managed. He was held responsible by one pastor for the appointment of unfit police magistrates. The attempt which will be made tomorrow night by the council to pass an ordinance permitting saloons to remain open after midnight will be strongly opposed by thousands of church members, many of whom heard sermons on the subject today. Hundreds of thousands of names are signed to protesting petitions, and many of the signers will try to be present to oppose the action of the Council. Riotous scenes are feared. Today, the call of the Rev. John Thompson of Grace Methodist Church for volunteers to attend the Council meeting was answered by the congregation rising and cheering.

STOOD UP DEAD PASTOR.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

EVANSVILE (Ind.) Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In the Baptist Church at Folsomville, Ind., twenty miles from here, the body of the Rev. James Hart was stood behind the pulpit this afternoon while his funeral sermon was preached. The glassy eyes of the old preacher looked out over the immense audience that came to pay homage to him. Rev. Hart was 76 years old, and had been pastor of the Folsomville church for fifty-five years.

OVER A CENTURY OLD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Mrs. Rosalie Israel, 105 years old, was buried today from the residence of Herman Lowenstein, No. 103 Blue Island avenue. Old age was given as the cause of death. From her father's cottage in Schneideneuhu, Germany, she had watched the soldiers of Napoleon in their march to Moscow.

ANTI-TOXIN STATIONS.

The Health Department today announced that the anti-toxin stations are to be reëstablished throughout the city. This was made possible by Commissioner Reynolds on his recent eastern trip in search of the serum at reasonable prices. Dr. Darlington, president of the New York City Health Board, agreed to supply Chicago's needs. The first installment of 500 vials of the New York product was received at the close of the week, and tri-weekly installments have been arranged for so as to supply a sufficient number of stations so located that no physician need send farther than half a mile for the remedy.

MISSING TREASURER FOUND.

William P. Inglis, treasurer of the Illinois St. Andrew Society, who disappeared from Chicago nearly two months ago, has been found by his wife, in Jacksonville, Fla. Despite her importunities, he has refused to return and make an accounting for funds of the organization which were intrusted to his keeping. The meeting between Inglis and his wife took place February 1, and was kept secret by a few members of the St. Andrew Society until today. It was brought about through a telegram received by Mrs. Inglis from a friend in Jacksonville, informing her that her husband had been seen there.

DUCK SHOOTER'S MISFORTUNE.

KILLS A WARRANT ENGINEER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

PORT TOWNSEND (Wash.) Feb. 21.—The news reached here today that while the revenue cutter Arcata was lying at the Friday Harbor dock, her crew amused themselves by shooting at passing ducks with a rifle. A bird passed over the vessel, and Alfred Goebel, a coal-passer, leveled his rifle at it just as William L. Sayre, one of the warrant engineers, came into range. The heavy bullet plowed through the head of the unfortunate man, entering at the base of the skull and coming out at the mouth, killing him instantly.

The Coroner's jury exonerated Goebel, who is frantic with grief. Sayre had been several years in the revenue service, and left a widow at San Francisco.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Death from Typhoid.

GLOBE (Ariz) Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Miss Elsie Howard, wounded in the head last November by the accidental discharge of a shotgun in the hands of a friend, died Saturday. The immediate cause of death was typhoid.

Miner Horribly Killed.

GLOBE (Ariz.) February 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A. H. Lake, a miner employed by the Saddle Mountain Mining Company ate San Carlos Camp, on the Gila River, was killed on the 15th inst. by a blast at the bottom of a winze. He had lighted five blast fuses and was being hauled to the top when the windlas failed, dropping him fifteen feet to the bottom. He pulled three of the fuses, but the other blases exploded. Lake's body was horribly mangled by the flying rocks, and he died soon after being taken out.

Wife's Alarming Discovery.

STOCKTON, Feb. 21.—The heavy breathing of her husband awoke Mrs. Henry Landers this morning. Being alarmed at his condition she endeavored to awake him, but he expired in a few seconds without uttering a word. The deceased was well known, being the steward of the California Navigation Company for years. Mrs. Landers cannot be made to realize that her husband is dead, and it is feared that she has gone insane.

Acquittal of Janes.

VISALIA, Feb. 21.—William L Janes of Tipton, charged with the murder of Marshal George M. Martin of Tulare, October 17 last, while the bond-burning celebration was being held, was acquitted this morning. The jury received the case Saturday night at 11 o'clock, and after three ballots reached the verdict of acquittal. This was the second trial, the first one ending in a hung jury, seven for conviction and five for acquittal.

Traffic Agents' Meeting.

ASHLAND (Or.) Feb. 21.—Before finally adjourning its annual convention today the Pacific Coast Association of Traffic Agents held a three hours' business session this morning. The date of the 1905 meeting at San José was fixed for February 20. The constitution was amended so that the board of control for each district can act on applications for membership subject to ratification of the district organizations, and privileges of such membership may be enjoyed until the time of the next meeting of the general association.

High Water at Gazelle.

GAZELLE, Feb. 21.—The snow of yesterday changed to heavy rain that fell steadily all night and through the day. This evening Shasta River and Yreka Creek are at their highest, while Quartz and Willow Creeks are higher than any time for fourteen years. Rain still continues.

He Said Good-by.

MODESTO, Feb. 21.—J. W. Briggs committed suicide here today, shortly before noon. He was visiting relatives, and was to have gone to Lodi to attend the funeral of a nephew this afternoon. Just before train time, he left the home of his brother-in-law and went to a hardware store, where he purchased a revolver. Saying goodby to the salesman, he placed the revolver to his head and fired a bullet through his brain. Death resulted immediately. No cause for the suicide is known. Briggs had been chief engineer of the Pinole Powder Works for six years.

Proposed Ostrich Farm.

SAN JOSE, Feb. 21.—Colwell P. Leitch of Phoenix, Ariz., is the promoter of an ostrich farm which will be located in this city. A carload of ostriches will arrive here tomorrow morning and another shipment is expected within ten days. The project will be conducted by a corporation with a paid-up capital of $25,000.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS FROM THE WORLD.

VIENNA, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The police with difficulty prevented an attack on the United States consulate at Prague by a mob of several thousand Czechs, who were loudly cheering for Russia and the Czar. The mob's enmity was shown against the consulate by yells: "Down with the United States, the friend of Japan!"

SULTAN DEMANDS IMPARTIALITY

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

VIENNA, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] According to the nespaper Politische Correpondenz, the Sultan highly disapproves of the pleasure shown in Constantinople over Japan's successes. The Sultan has issued strict orders through the police that the Turkish press must maintain an impartial reserve. The Servian press and people applaud the intention of Prince Arsene Karageorgevitch, King Peter's brother, to take part in the war as a Russian officer.

JAPANESE ASSERTION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World's Chefoo correspondent cables: "The Japanese confidently assert they will take Port Arthur with their fleet within two months, although Russian military strategists regard the place as a second Metz. Port Arthur is provisioned for nineteen months. Five thousand Russian troops were in Port Arthur when the Japanese fleet first attacked it. The soldiers as well as the fleet were caught napping."

NEUTRALITY TEMPORARY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Chinese minister has proclaimed that China's neutrality is only temporary, that no one, even the astutest diplomats, can tell what change a day will bring forth forth in China's attitude. He said: "It should never be forgotten that the war will be fought out in Manchuria, on Chinese territory, and that the excitement of the Chinese people will increase as the war progresses. Thirty thousand well-drilled Chinese troops are already stationed in the province of Chi Li, ready at a moment's notice from Peking, to enter Manchuria."

ALEXIEFF'S CHINESE MANIFESTO

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TIEN-TSIN, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Alexieff has issued a proclamation, printed in Chinese, which is posted in every village and town in Manchuria and on the Liao Tung Peninsula. The proclamation explains from the Russian viewpoint, the causes which lead to the "treacherous opening" of the war by Japan. It calls for Chinese assistance in maintaining the Manchurian railway, and denounces those who would attempt to destroy it.

WILL INFORM GOVERNMENT.

LONDON, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Express says that Count Beckendorf, the Russian Ambassador to Great Britain, during his visit to St. Petersburg, "will take the opportunity of informing his government of the true state of feeling of the British government on the question of the war; that it is not the desire of the British people that England's alliance with Japan should be taken as an indication that a settlement honorable to both sides would be unwelcome here, and that as a matter of fact, if desired, King Edward stands ready to offer his services as friendly mediator, in order to avoid further bloodshed."

CANADIANS DIVIDED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Though English-speaking Canada is all for Japan as a British ally, French-Canadian sympathy, unless every indication, public and private, be misleading, is taking shape for Russia, the ally of France, as unmistakably as it did for the anti-British side in the Boer War. It therefore would be a ticklish thing just now for the government of Canada to allow the ides to go forth that the British War Office authorities can count on Canadian troops for service in Asia if the mother country be drawn into the conflict.

TURNING BACK TO BALTIC.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

KIEL, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Well-informed naval officials declare that the reason for turning back the Russian squadron that was destined for the Orient from Jibutil to the Baltic Sea was the realization of the great superiority of the Japanese fleet. The Russian Baltic squadron will remain in the Baltic Sea.

DISAPPOINTS CHURCH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Claiming that the members of the Alexander Avenue Baptist Church did not keep faith with him, John D. Rockefeller has withdrawn his promise to give the congregation $10,000 to help pay for their handsome new $100,000 edifice. The action has caused a sensation in church circles. Members of the church believe they are entitled to the money, having fulfilled the conditions laid down by Rockefeller.

"AWAKENING OF THE LION."

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Anti-Russian feeling in Poland is assuming grave proportions. The St. Petersburg government is seriously alarmed over the outcome of Polish hostility against the government, that is expressed almost unreservedly.

COLOMBO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Col. K. M. Foss stated today that he had been working northward from Mergui, in Lower Burmah, to the Siamese frontier, with engineers, and that he had discovered deposits of tin equal to those in the Straits Settlements, and likely to add largely to the world's output.

AGAINST 16 TO 1.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Every Southern State will send a delegation to the St. Louis National Convention instructed to vote to remove the 16-to-1 silver plank from the Democratic platform," said Judge Eric Gambrell of Dallas, Tex., tonight. "The Democrats have at last come to the conclusion that this is a dead issue."

ACTION AS TO BALKANS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PARIS, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Great Britain and France, it is said tonight, are taking concerted action to regulate the Balkan situation, seeking to restrain Turkey and the war party in Bulgaria.

THAT CELEBRATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Great is the Czar's extreme displeasure at incidents of the night torpedo attack on the ships at Port Arthur. The Czar has ordered a full inquiry. On the night in question, the entire staff of fleet officers, it is said, were celebrating the birthday of Mme. Stark, wife of Admiral Stark.

FAMOUS MONKEY DEAD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BERLIN, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Consul, the famous monkey in the Bostock animal circus, is dead of pneumonia. His life was insured for $100,000. Consul is estimated to have earned $78,000 a year for the Bostock show.

TRANSPORTS WELL CONVOYED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Russian warships are reported between Japan and Korea. Transports carrying troops across are heavily convoyed in consequence.

RUSSIAN MILITARY ACTIVITY.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

LONDON, Feb. 21—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A dispatch from Warsaw to the Times says heavy guns are being put in position on the coast fifteen versts (about ten miles) from Odessa, covering the approach to the port. Russia's feverish military and naval activity belies optimistic official assurances that nothing untoward is anticipated around the Black Sea.

COUNNTING STAMPS PAPER.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hundreds of nimble-fingered treasury experts spent today counting tons of sheets of paper from which internal revenue stamps are printed. This is the first stock taking in the paper vaults for eighteen years. Secretary Shaw was anxious to know how the paper would check up with the stock books.

TROOPS RUSH FORWARD.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The World's Chefoo dispatch says Russian troops are hurrying toward the Yalu River from Liau-Yang, south of Mukden, the nearest point on the railroad to the river. Toward the Yalu, tens of thousands of Japanese troops also are proceeding by forced marches from various points in Korea. It is expected that most desperate fighting will take place in Northern Korea very soon. Several engagements have occurred between scouts and outposts.

Some Signs of a Long Life.

Women are supposed to be longer lived than men.

Some experienced persons say that every woman carries signs that will tell if her life is to be a short or a long one.

The woman who desires long life must have eyes round and wide rather than long and narrow, and if they are brown or hazel life will be longer than if they were black or violet.

The brow must be ample and slope back slightly from an absolute perpendicular. The head must be wide behind and over the ears.

The brow must be full and well set, and the chin square and firm.

The nose must be wide and full through its whole length, and have open, easy dilating nostrils. This indicates a good heart and good lungs.

If the orifice of the ear is low, indicating a deeply-seated brain, there is a better chance of long life.

The woman who appears taller in proportion when sitting down than when standing has a good chance to live long. If the body is long in proportion to the limbs, the heart, lungs and digestive organs are large.

The pulse should beat with full and normal stroke. Limbs and joints should be large and well formed, the flesh neither too hard nor too soft—[Washington Times.

Religious Education.

While the religious pres of the country is still discussing the organization and first convention of the Religious Education Association at Chicago last February, announcement is made that the second annual convention is to be held in Philadelphia, March 2-4. The discussion is not likely to be lessened by this second meeting, since, according to the programme, it is bringing together an even larger and more distinguished company of men of diverse views than the first convention, which awakened greater debate than any other religious gathering in America since the World's Congress of Religions at the Chicago Fair.

The convention's dominant theme will be "The Bible in Practical Life," and this will be treated in its various phases—including the mooted question of the Bible in the public schools—by leading college presidents and professors, ecclesiastical officials including Archbishop Ireland and a Jewish Rabbi, as well as many representatives of the most conservative orthodoxy, pastors, editors, and others prominent in public service.

DRISCOLL ALMOST KILLED ON FIELD.

STAR POLO PLAYER HAS NARROW ESCAPE AT DEL MONTE.

Lawrence McCreery Does Some Great Playing, and His Team Wins Easily—Match Lacking in Team Work—Now After Duval Cup.

DEL MONTE, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Tom Driscoll, the star polo player of the West, and former tennis champion of the Pacific Coast, met with a thrilling accident on the polo field this afternoon. He was riding at full speed down the field in the final round for the Del Monte Cup in order to crop Dick Tobin out of play, and let Walter Hobart drive the ball for goal, when his pony fell headlong. It turned a complete somersault, and Driscoll was hurled as from a catapult. Both horse and man landed heavily on their backs, but Driscoll instinctively bounded clear of the pony.

Driscoll, fortunately, escaped injury, but was badly shaken up, and left the field. He and Hobart, with Chaplin and Raoul Duval, donor of the cup, played against Walter and Lawrence McCreery, Lawson and Richard Tobin.

Lawrence McCreery proved the star game, repeatedly racing away from Hobart's mounts, and driving the ball toward the goal posts. McCreery's team made eight goals and had nine other tries, while Driscoll's team scored two goals and tried for four others. The match was lacking in team work. It was notable for the whirling style of evolutions, and the large number of missed strokes.

Richard Tobin rode fiercely and got in many strokes. His repeated attempts to discount Driscoll's plays led to the final retaliation which resulted in Driscoll's accident.

McCreery's team is now eligible to play Haig's Hurlingham team for the Duval Cup.

Tomorrow the final pony races meet will be run, with some added features.

Guardsmen Going Home.

TELLURIDE (Colo.) Feb. 21.—Maj. Hill and about forty members of the Denver troops of the Colorado National Guard left for their homes today. Their places were taken by the local troops, of which Bulkeley Wells, manager of the Smuggler-Union mine, here, is in command. Capt. Wells succeeds Maj. Hill in command of the military forces here. No definite plans have been announced for a withdrawal of the military from San Miguel county, and it cannot be stated just when martial law will end.

BULGARIA'S RESOLVE.

Will Do Nothing to Compromise Peace, Says Her Agent at Paris. War Party Has Preponderating Influence at Constantinople.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] M. Zultovitch, the Bulgarian agent in Paris, made the following statement today:

"I can give the most formal assurances that Bulgaria has more than ever resolved to do nothing to compromise the peace. It is with great satisfaction we have seen the powers elaborate a plan for reforms in Macedonia, and we wish, without any reservation, the reforms realised. Above all, at this moment, when the powers are following with anxiety the events in the Far East, Bulgaria will avoid doing anything that would cause the belief that she proposes to profit by the crisis. The Bulgarian people have unanimously expressed warm sympathy for Russia.

"It is unfortunate that Turkey persists in her regrettable hostility. Besides the annoying police measures she has taken against our people, our commerce suffers serious obstacles; and finally, the continued concentrating of Turkish troops along our frontier and the mobilization of troops at strategic points is menacing us."

M. Zultovitch said there is a war party in Constantinople which has a preponderating influence, and quoted from consular reports to the effect that the Turks fear a military insurrection, if war with Bulgaria is not declared.

"In the light of these facts," M. Zultovitch continued, "it is natural that Bulgaria, too, should be preparing."

It is understood the powers are considering simultaneous representations to Constantinople and Sofia to compel a limitation to armament.

NEW TURKISH CRUISER.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 21.—The cruiser Medjedia, built for the Imperial Ottoman navy at Cramps, is under hurry orders to get home. She will leave here March 1, and will carry her own flag. It has been intended to take the vessel to Constantinople and deliver her there to the Turkish naval authorities, but a change in this plan was found necessary, and the ship will be put in commission and unfurl her flag at this port.

EMPLOYERS GATHER TO CRUSH AGITATORS.

INDIANAPOLIS, Feb. 21.—The Industrial Association of America will begin its sessions here tomorrow. Five hundred manufacturers and business men of the country are expected. Many have arrived today for the meeting. Representatives of the National Association of Manufacturers, the American Founders' Association, the National Metal Trades Association, the American Anti-boycott Association, the National Cooperators Association, the Electrical Association, the Merchant Tailors' Protective Association, the National Builders' Association and a number of local employers' associations and citizens' alliances will be here.

Speaking of the work of the convention, President Parry said: "An effort will be made to evolve some kind of scheme whereby a bureau of tabulated information may be kept in reference to men who are the fountain-heads of riotous strikes. The public has the opinion that we are opposed to labor unions. This conclusion is highly erroneous. We are not opposed to unions, but we do stand against some of their work."

MITCHELL GETTING TIRED.

CHICAGO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of America, intimated today, in an address before the Illinois Miners' Convention, that he would soon retire from the executive work of the labor movement.

"I would not wish to go through another six years such as the last six in which I have presided over the destinies of United Mine Workers of America," he said. "I don't know how much longer it will be my privilege or my wish to preside over your national organization."

Mitchell's words produced a profound impression on the delegates. When Mitchell was asked to explain what he meant, he did not give any definite explanation of his plans for the future.

C. W. Post of Battle Creek, Mich., president of the National Advertisers' Association, said tonight: "Among other things the convention will consider at some length the establishment of labor bureaus in various industrial centers in order to furnish market reports of the labor market each week. These labor reports will govern the employer in the purchase of his labor."

THE FAR EAST.

outside world will have a better idea of my government and my people. It was gratifying to hear from a representative American, several days ago, of the approval in this country of the policy which has been strictly adhered to, of making public the news from the Far East, whether good or bad.

"In the earnest hope that peace might be preserved with Japan, my government was giving more attention to the methods by which a diplomatic settlement might be reached than to preparations for the recourse to arms which we're now convinced Japan had determined on at the outset of the negotiations. For this reason, the first chapter in the Far Eastern war has not been characterized by Russian victories.

"The truth, however, has been made public as rapidly as Admiral Alexieff's dispatches have been made known to His Majesty. In this first chapter, however, is contained a picture, which, as was to be expected, the Americans were quick to appreciate and applaud. I refer to the noble conduct of the captain of the Variag, who, after refusing to surrender his ship, came out of the harbor of Chemulpo to face an overwhelming force of Japanese warships, to whose fire he responded as effectively as he could and then blew up his own ship that she might not fall into the hands of the enemy. The contribution of such a page to Russian history more than compensates for any losses sustained by our navy as a result of Japanese attacking us before a declaration and while her envoy at St. Petersburg was still enjoying the courtesy and protection of the Russian government.

"The Associated Press dispatches from St. Petersburg have correctly reported the tidal wave of national feeling and enthusiasm which has swept over my country. No longer is the struggle in the Far East a political one, interesting for the most part diplomats and statesmen. It has flared up into a national war. My august master has shown extraordinary patience in endeavoring to arrive at a settlement without war. But now that Japan has made war, the determination of the Russian Emperor and his people that she shall be satisfied with that for which she has seemed so anxious, is made all the stronger by the patience and forbearance which have hitherto characterized our dealings with the Japanese.

"In international interests of the world's humanity, I am confident that all nations will hope for the success of Secretary Hay's effort to limit the deplorable war to the belligerents now engaged."

WAR BULLETINS FROM MANY POINTS.

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—The Herald's correspondent sends the following:

CHEFOO, Sunday, 3:20 p.m.—The United States warships Wilmington and New Orleans, which arrived here suddenly, have been recalled to the south. It is reported that an incident has occurred at Shanghai, probably connected with the present war. The Annapolis, which is expected here tomorrow, has also been recalled to Shanghai.

MAPS STOLEN AT SEOUL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's correspondent sends the following:

NAGASAKI, Saturday, Feb. 20.—Tonight, while Mr. Sands was liberally entertaining at dinner the officers of the French cruiser Pascal and friends in his official residence at Seoul, as advisor to the household of the Emperor of Korea, some geographical, statistical and military maps were stolen. This has caused a great scandal, and has necessitated his recall.

SPAIN DENIES ALLIANCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 21.—The correspondent at Madrid of the Temps says that in the session of the Cortés Monday the government will deny the reports of foreign alliances, which were the cause of the excitement Saturday, and will say that the movements of troops are only precautionary, and for the purpose of enforcing Spanish neutrality in the war in the Far East.

OUR WARSHIPS TO SHANGHAI.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHEFOO, Feb. 21.—The United States cruiser New Orleans and the gunboats Wilmington and Annapolis, which sailed from Manila, February 15, under command of Rear Admiral Cooper, upon arriving here received orders from the Secretary of the Navy to return to Shanghai. When the outbreak of hostilities between Russia and Japan occurred, Admiral Evans, commanding the Asiatic fleet, dispatched a cruiser squadron to Shanghai and Admiral Cooper's squadron to Chefoo. Secretary Moody has ordered all the ships to Shanghai. They coaled and left immediately.

RUSSIANS ON DEFENSIVE.

The Russian forces in Manchuria are so far acting entirely on the defensive. Extensive preparations are being made at Dalny, Port Arthur, Newchwang and Lio Yang to prevent the threatened landing of the Japanese troops. A big force of men is at work on the damaged vessels in the Port Arthur harbor, and efforts are being made to raise the battleship Retvizan.

The supply of fresh vegetables and beef in Port Arthur is getting very short, and speculators are endeavoring to secure steamers to run the blockade.

MILLER'S EFFORTS FAIL.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

YINKOW, Feb. 21.—All United States Consul Miller's efforts to arrange for his representative to meet the Japanese refugees at Newchwang has failed. The obstacles which the viceregal and civil administrations placed in his way seemed to indicate that it is the intention of the authorities to control and remove the refugees, so as to prevent their lodging complaints and laying evidence of their treatment before foreigners.

FRANCE AND NEUTRALITY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PARIS, Feb. 21.—While France has acceded to the British proposal for the extension of neutrality by China to all points in China leased by powers save those occupied by Russia, the Foreign office says that such action in no wise impairs the rights of the powers under their leases. The question has been brought up that the British proposal tended to reaffirm Chinese sovereignty over the points occupied, as well as to foreign municipalities, but the view of the French authorities is that there is no change in the status of these territories in consequence of the extension of Chinese neutrality to them.

CONFIRMED SINKING OF JAPS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, Feb. 21.—Grand Duke Alexis, conversing at the yacht club, confirmed the report of the sinking of a Japanese cruiser and a Japanese torpedo boat at Chemulpo.

FRENCH SAILORS RECALLED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

L'ORIENT (France) Feb. 21.—Fifty sailors now on leave here, destined for the Far East, have been recalled. They will sail February 25, instead of March 6, as at first contemplated.

FRENCH CRUISERS PREPARING.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

BREST (France) Feb. 21.—The preparation of the cruiser D'Assas and the torpedo-boat destroyers Javelin and Pistolet is being urgently proceeded with. The instructions of the Minister of the Navy to the commanders of the vessels has been received here.

SAFEGUARDING THE BOURSE.

FINANCIERS CO-OPERATE.

PARIS, Feb. 21.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Prominent financiers have been in consultation today, and measures were taken which will be put in operation tomorrow to prevent continuance of the depression which, since the opening of the war in the Far East, and particularly Friday and Saturday last, characterizes the Bourse. The government is assisting these efforts positively denying that there is any ground for alarm over further complications.

The serious result of the weakness of the market is shown by the estimates of securities listed on the Bourse, which have diminished in value about one billion francs within the past two weeks.

Since February 6, French rentes dropped here f.3, 25 centimes; Spanish exteriors, f.11, 10 centimes, Russian consols, f.7; Brazilian fours, f.5, 30 centimes; Bank of Paris, f.98; Credit Lyonnaise, f.8; Suez, f.200; Thomson-Houston, f.50 and Rio Tintos, f.64.

It is recognized that something must be done to stop the reckless efforts to sell. All the financiers who discussed the matter today united in stating that the crisis was preeminently produced by speculation based on the general fear of complications arising out of the war between Russia and Japan, and it is because of this that capital has been timid of intervening. The financiers who have been consulting today propose to act together to uphold the market tomorrow, and this, taken with the denial of the sensational reports from Berlin and Madrid and by the government here, is expected to bring about a reaction, or at least to produce a firmer market.

M. De Verneuil, a member of a prominent company operating on the Bourse, called attention today to the fact that the tone of the Bourse in itself was excellent.

"I believe," he said, "that very shortly, from Monday, even, the market will be strong, and will resume its normal course."

KING EDWARD'S FALL.

English Monarch Stumbles and Pitches Forward While Inspecting a Cruiser.

NEW YORK, Feb. 22.—While inspecting the cruiser Cumberland, King Edward has been much inconvenienced by the injuries resulting from a fall, says a dispatch to the American from Portsmouth, England.

The King visited Portsmouth in the course of a royal inspection of the naval stations and decided to make a detailed tour of the Cumberland. He was walking under the armored deck, when, although the ship was brilliantly illuminated with electric lights, the King's foot struck the sill of a compartment door, and he stumbled and pitched forward. In his fall he injured his leg, but when assisted to his feet declared the hurt was slight.

He limped ashore almost unaided, but later complained of pain, and was compelled to sit while reviewing the gymnastic exercises given in the naval barracks.

A SWINDLER BEHIND BARS.

Local Officers Capture Leader of Notorious Gang.

Confesses Guilt, May Bring Others to Justice.

Los Angeles Property Sold by Forged Deeds.

As the culmination of expert detective work, which has been in progress since last September, and in which officers of half a dozen cities throughout the country have taken part, Carl Anderson, alias D. S. Spring, alias J. H. Johnson, alias half a dozen other names, one of the most extensive land swindlers who has ever operated with California realty, was arrested in this city shortly before midnight last night, and after being put through a "sweating" process by Capt. Bradish, Chief Elton and other officers made a confession of his guilt.

The arrest was made by Detectives Hawley, Murphy and Benedict, and is considered one of the most important that has been effected here in years. This criminal has been operating in many cities, dealing in property worth hundreds of thousands of dollars. Time and again did officers in various places think they had him, but he slipped through their fingers. It was for the Los Angeles detective force to finally land this leader in what is known to be a gang of land swindlers, who have parted many an easterner from his money, giving in return only forged deeds and mortgages on property to which the members of the gang never had a title. How many members there are in this gang of crooks the detectives do not know, but they assert they have abundant evidence to prove that the man whom they arrested last night is the ringleader in the gang.

WOMEN MEMBERS OF GANG.

The officers would have preferred waiting until such a time as they would have been able to capture others of the gang, several women among them, but the opportunity came last night to clinch a certain case against the ringleader, and they nabbed him, trusting that his confession will lead to the capture of the others. Although he admitted his own guilt, he refused positively to reveal the identity of any of the persons who have been assisting him. He took his arrest in a manner which led the officers to believe he would commit suicide if given an opportunity. The prisoner was, therefore, not only locked up, but was placed under a special guard.

Last September the authorities here learned that some person had been offering to trade California property for farms and city lots in the Middle West and that when several such trades were made, and the persons who made the deals came here to claim what they thought they had secured, they found they had been victimized by a gang of forgers and the deeds they had secured were valueless. Many such cases were reported within a month, and finally a case was discovered in which the officers were able to trace the forgeries to this city.

Mrs. Mary Griswold, a widow, whose home is in Sioux City, Iowa, and who is the mother of the young banker who was killed in the attempt to hold up and rob a Santa Monica electric car two years ago, owns a number of pieces of realty in this city: property in Pasadena and elsewhere in Los Angeles county. A man who gave the name of Carl Anderson appeared in Omaha and advertised certain California property for sale. He exhibited deeds which bore what purported to be the signature of Mrs. Griswold, and offered the property mentioned in these deeds for property in the vicinity of Omaha.

VICTIMS IN MIDDLE WEST.

W. R. Homan, a wealthy Omaha man, entered into a deal with him and upon investigation found that such deeds had been recorded here; that the title to the property was clear, and he therefore traded certain valuable Omaha property to Anderson, who for a balance owed to him took a mortgage on part of the property for $550. The amount involved in this one transaction was $7800, part of which Homan paid in cash. Once the deal was completed, Anderson immediately sold the property to an innocent third purchaser for cash at a price far below the market value, and left Omaha. Homan soon learned that the deeds he had received were forgeries, and that even the deeds which had been placed on record in this city had been forged.

Anderson went from Omaha to Kansas City, where, under the name of Springer, he successfully worked the game again, but in this transaction he got another man so involved in the case that when officers began to look for Anderson, alias Springer, they arrested his dupe, but were unable to successfully prosecute him.

Then Anderson went to Chicago, where he advertised extensively that he had California property to exchange for eastern property. He had a suite of offices in a business block and under the name of J. W. Johnson he found other victims. The extent of his operations in Chicago is not known, but Chief of Police O'Neill would like to have him behind the bars of the Cook County Jail.

SOLD SAME LAND MANY TIMES.

Meantime the officers had been working on the Omaha fraud. Homan set the machinery of the law in operation and Chief of Police Donahue took up the case. The more he investigated it the more extensive Anderson's operations appeared. He had sold the property which Mrs. Griswold owns not only to persons in Omaha, but had disposed of portions of it in Norfolk, Blair and Kearney, Neb., Council Bluffs, Creston, Missouri Valley and Ida Grove, Iowa, and also in Kansas City. How much the forger realized in these transactions is not known, but the amount was very large.

From this end of the line the detectives of Los Angeles learned that Anderson had visited a real estate office on South Broadway, accompanied by a woman who represented herself to be Mrs. Griswold. Before a notary public named Wayne, this woman had signed and acknowledged a number of deeds, forging the name of Mrs. Griswold to all of the papers. Prior to bringing the woman there, he had visited that real estate office several times until he became well known there and therefore had no difficulty in convincing the notary public that the woman was Mrs. Griswold.

Who that woman really was is something the detectives would like to know, but as yet they have been unable to get any trace of her. Anderson asserted in his confession last night that he did not know her; that he had paid her $15 for her services and that he had never seen her since. This statement is believed to be false and the officers are trying to find the woman. They have a description of her.

LIVED AT LONG BEACH.

When Anderson returned to this part of the country he took the name of D. S. Spring and lived at Long Beach. He frequently came to Los Angeles and stayed at Hotel Palms. The fact that he had returned was imparted to the officers some time ago and they have since been watching for him.

Last night, when arrested, the prisoner for more than an hour brazenly defied the officers to prove anything against him, but little by little they let him know what they knew and what they could prove, and with each bit of information which they dropped the prisoner became more and more nervous. Finally he broke down and confessed. Mrs. Griswold was sent for and confronted the man, but of course did not know him, and her presence was only desired in order that it could be proved later that she had known nothing of the alleged transfer of property. When Anderson was led away to the City Jail he was almost too nervous to stand, and his manner indicated that he was in a desperate frame of mind.

It has not been decided just what legal steps will be taken against the accused man. The forgeries were committed in this city, but the fraudulent transfers of property took place in other cities. Anderson is held for the present as a fugitive from justice, as he is badly wanted in Omaha. Today a consultation will be held with the District Attorney and it will then be determined what course will be pursued in the courts. If it is decided to prosecute him here, and that is almost certain to be done, the Omaha authorities will be advised of his capture, but he will be surrendered to them only in the event of failure to secure a conviction here.

It has been ascertained that Anderson tried here to dispose of the $500 mortgage which was executed in his favor by Homan of Omaha. The various transactions will not affect the title to Mrs. Griswold's property, because she has not signed any deeds.

Among the effects of the prisoner were found papers which show that he has been engaged in land deals of great magnitude. There were five notes for $7000 each, executed by W. P. Bowles of Beaumont, Tex., and in which the transfer of 25,000 acres of land in that oil district were mentioned. Whether these deals were also fraudulent is not known, but they will be investigated. The notes bear the date of November 19, 1902.

LOST ANOTHER BOAT.

CHEFOO, Monday, Feb. 22.—The captain of the German steamer Pronto, just arrived from Dalny, says positively that, besides the torpedo gunboat Yenesei, accidentally destroyed by one of her own mines, the Russians have just lost another ship by accident on the 12th inst. This was a small cruiser, whose name was not learned. In avoiding some mines she ran upon rocks, from which she eventually slipped off into deep water and sank. There was no loss of life attached to the casualty. The Russian authorities insist that there is no truth in the story that a force of 1000 Japanese that landed at Pigeon, or Dove Bay, had been annilated.

B'NAI BRITH TO BUILD.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—At the annual meeting of the District Grand Lodge, No. 4, order of B'nai B'rith today, it was decided to build a new hall. Grand President W. A. Wise occupied the chair during the session. The report of the Grand President showed the district to be in a satisfactory financial condition. The Grand Secretary reported that during the year 1903, there was a net increase of 2748 members, making the total 9130. 398. The number of lodges in the district is thirty-three, with a total beneficiary membership of 824, and a total non-beneficiary membership of 1348.

MEMBERS ONLY.

A report having become current that the Broadway Club intended to attempt to evade the law in its coming evening's entertainment of boxing and musical turns, the officials of the organization last night issued the following statement:

"The management of the Broadway Athletic Club announces that the entertainment to be given Tuesday will be to members only, and in strict conformity with the laws and ordinances now in force.

"The club has in no wise attempted to violate or evade the law, but has retained competent legal ability to guide it, providing amusement strictly to members, along the exact lines the law-makers have provided.

"Applications for membership, entitling the applicant to enjoy the first smoker, athletic exhibition and general house-warming, will posotively not be taken after 7 o'clock p.m., on Tuesday, and no such applications will be taken at the clubhouse building."

Mrs. Cleveland's Joke.

This is a true story:

When Mrs. Grover Cleveland was Miss Frankie Folsom, the prettiest girl in Wells College, she had as teacher in English composition Miss Myra Reynolds, now a professor at the University of Chicago.

Miss Folsom handed in an essay one day in which occurred the reprehensible word "pants."

Miss Reynolds promptly crossed out the offending term and wrote in the margin:

"Gents wear pants, gentlemen wear pantaloons."

The correction was obviously absorbed by the fair pupil. A few years later, when Miss Folsom, as Mrs. Cleveland, had become the first lady in the land, her former teacher received one day an imposing-looking letter from the Executive Mansion, Washington. On opening it a sheet of beautiful note-paper bearing the monogram and crest of the President's wife appeared, together with Mrs. Cleveland's card. On the center of the sheet was pinned simply a newspaper clipping which read:

"Mamma," said little Emerson Highlife of Boston, "are the Gordon Brownes and the De Whitneys and the Burne Smithsons all gone away for the summer?"

"Yes, dear. And why?"

"Then, please, may I say 'pants' till they get home?"—[Gertrude Cobb, in February Lippincott's.

Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Voigt have sold their home on Fifteenth street and have removed to No. 131 Grand avenue, Ocean Park, where they expect to remain for a year or more.

Work has been begun on a ten-room house for B. Williams at No. 1938 Harvard street. It is to cost $5500.

At No. 1721 Reid street a $1000 cottage is being built by the Los Angeles Building Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Nathaniel Scott of Chicago arrived here yesterday morning for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Tomblin of No. 720 West Twenty-eighth street. Mrs. Scott is a niece of Mrs. Tomblin.

EAST LOS ANGELES.

Much dissatisfaction is expressed by the residents of East Main street over the proposed assessment district for the purpose of opening up Darwin avenue to the Los Angeles River. The proposition is to make the district reach from the middle of Mozart street to the middle of East Main street, and from the bridge across the river to Workman street. East Side people are making the claim that the Huntington interests are behind the scheme, as ethey want the avenue opened at public expense, and wish to utilize it to run a line on Darwin avenue and on Lamar streets to the new Southern Pacific shops.

Oster A. LeSage of No. 2175 East Main street has been very ill the past ten days of gas poisoning, but is now convalescent.

Mrs. S. P. Lyons of No. 2403 Downey avenue has as her guest her sister, Mrs. M. A. Dueler of Oakland.

The Hahn laundry building on East Main street has been remodeled into a lodging and boarding-house.

The brick work on the Baird Block on Downey avenue is well under way and the new bank building is being roofed. These two structure are among the most notable of recent East Side acquisitions.

The eighteenth birthday anniversary of Murray Irvine was celebrated with a gathering of his friends at his home, No. 2101 Altura street.

It is stated that the Union Box and Bee Hive Factory that was recently burned out on the East Side will not be rebuilt here, but will be combined with the factory on Wall street, and a new factory will be built on East Seventh street, near the river.

Twenty-four expert glass makers arrived from the East a few days ago to work in the East Side glass factory. The new machinery is nearly all adjusted, and within the next two weeks it is expected the plant will be in operation.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the East Side Congregational Church will present "Mrs. Wiggs of the Cabbage Patch" next Friday evening in the Assembly Hall. Twenty persons will participate in the play, which is presented here for the first time.

Two candidates received the Royal Purple degree at the last meeting of Magnolia Encampment, I.O.O.F. Eureka Rebekah Lodge at its last meeting initiated four candidates and received four applications for membership.

A pretty church wedding was that of Miss Mary A. Ronan, daughter of Mrs. Mary Ronan, to Hugh Vincent Byrne, late of Los Angeles, but now residing in Tucson, Ariz. Rev. M. McAuliffe officiated in the Church of the Sacred Heart, Wednesday morning, February 10, in the presence of a company of relatives and intimate friends. Miss Margaret Ronan attended the bride and James Byrne was the groomsman. A wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's mother, and Mr. and Mrs. Byrne departed for their Arizona home.

GARVANZA.

The birthdays of Washington and Lincoln were celebrated at Annandale schoolhouse last Friday. The programme consisted of talks by Mark Keppel, County Superintendent of Schools, and Rev. H. Wilson of Azusa, and a recitation by Mrs. Packard of Los Angeles. This was followed by a banquet.

Crites & Myers report the following sales of real estate during the past week: From H. B. Howard to Isaac Crites, two lots and tent house on Mountain avenue, in the Lindsay tract; from A. M. Irish to B. L. Jones, the fine residence now occupied by Mr. Irish on Pollard street. Mr. Jones is a recent arrival from Ozark, Ark., and will make this his home; from E. L. Gridley to Edwin C. Thorn, a lot on Avenue 65, adjoinnig Mr. Thorne's present residence.

At the meeting of the Garvanza Improvement Association held at Crites & Myers's office last Thursday evening, articles of incorporation, for the association were adopted, and the following directorate elected for the ensuing year: W. R. Bacon, E. C. Thorne, R. A. Lindsay, W. R. Myers, C. S. Campbell-Johnston, J. A. Whitaker, Birney Donnell, Charles Quein and W. G. Wilson. The main object in forming the stock company is to raise a fund for the uniform planting of shade trees along the Garvanza streets as fast as they are graded, and to insure that the trees will be properly cared for for the first five years. Short addresses were made by Col. Mudge, president of the Federation of Improvement Associations, J. W. Jeffrey of the Horticultural Commission and others. Mr. Jeffrey, in his classification of Southern California scenery, places Garvanza among the five most beautiful scenic spots.

The next meeting of the Improvement Association will be held in the Stanton Stone Block on Avenue 64, this evening, February 22, at which meeting it is desired that every one interested in the welfare and beautifying of Garvanza will be present.

The Salt Lake Railway Company are at work raising their track on Pasadena avenue between Avenues 62 and 66, to correspond to the grade of the street.

Work is progressing on the new reservoir belonging to the city water department and situated on the Campbell-Johnston hills on the outskirts of Garvanza. This reservoir will give sufficient pressure to supply some of the high spots not reached by the present system.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Lindsay of Elgin street returned Thursday last from a trip covering several months in England.

Fears were entertained that the old flagpole that has stood so long at the corner of Pasadena avenue and Avenue 64 was becoming unsafe, so Friday last it was lowered under the supervision of Contractor Thorne.

Dr. J. B. Leonard of San Pasqual avenue has gone to Arizona in search of a location. The family will follow later.

THE SOUTH'S PROBLEM.

Much has been said about the race problem in the South, and the ultimate status of the black man. On this subject, it is hardly necessary to say, opinions differ very radically, according to the point of view. Many persons take an extremely pessimistic view of the existing situation, professing to see very little hope for the negro in the future, and holding that emigration (or, more properly speaking, expatriation,) is the sole remedy for the evils alleged to exist. Such extreme views, however, are held only by negrophobists like Gov. Vardaman of Mississippi and Senator Tillman of South Carolina. There are many well-informed persons, both in the North and in the South, who take a more optimistic view of the race question, and believe that in good time the problem will find a happy solution.

Among those who hold to the optimistic view of the race question is Representative William Richardson of Alabama. Mr. Richardson believes that the industrial growth of the South is destined to furnish the solution of the race problem. In a speech delivered in the House on January 28, Mr. Richardson elaborated this idea, and supported it by some statistics relative to the recent industrial progress of the South that are certainly surprising, and go far in support of his optimistic view of the situation.

How is the industrial prosperity of the South going to settle the negro problem, so-called? At first glance it would appear that there is little or no relation between these questions. But Mr. Richardson, it must be confessed, makes out a rather strong case, although there will be many persons who will not agree with his conclusions, and many others who, admitting the correctness of his premises and deductions, will deprecate the method of solution which he suggests.

Briefly, Mr. Richardson believes that the race problem is to be solved by the gradual substitution of white workmen for black in the fields and factories of the South. His idea is that this will cause the negroes to leave the South in increasing numbers and to disperse themselves throughout the other States of the Union, thus making the problem national rather than sectional, and rendering it easier of solution by reason of the fact that the negro will be in a small minority in all the States to which he will emigrate, no less than in the States of the South. Each State can then deal with the question as it sees fit, so that the negro "problem" will cease to be a problem, and will become a mere question of expediency.

"Let us alone in the South," is the keynote of Mr. Richardson's argument. "Let us alone in the South," he says, "and so far as the logic of our industrial progress and improvement and development is concerned we will settle peaceably, quietly, that great question!" In further elucidation of this idea, Mr. Richardson said:

"No man doubts the fact that when the negro becomes a very small minority in the South and white people take his place in the workshops, the mines, and the cultivation of the lands, that that is a long step in the direction of settling the so-called negro problem. Now, what are the facts about this? What is it that has contributed an important part to this wonderful prosperity, present and future, in the South? I am glad, Mr. Chairman, yes, I rejoice, to be able to stand here and say that in my humble opinion the South today stands upon the threshold of a greater growth and prosperity than the most favored section of the world has ever realized. We feel it in the atmosphere. We see it in the unequaled opportunities and advantages that the South holds out to the world for profitable investment. The attention of the whole country—yes, even the world—is fixed on our section. This means immigration will follow, and has now set in. All of this points to commercial supremacy. The first significant fact that I call the attention of the committee to is this: Go to the last census. and what startling fact do you find there? There were 24,500,000 acres of tillable land in the South that was cultivated in the twelve months preceding the publication of the census.

"How was it cultivated? Who did it? It speaks more than volumes can tell of the wonderful changes that are going on in our industrial interests in the South. Out of that 24,500,000 acres of tillable cotton land, white men cultivated and raised cotton on 14,000,000 acres of it; 5,000,000 were cultivated by what were known as 'managers' who employed negro labor. Is not that a significant fact? Is it not more than a whisper in the ear as to the progress and development of the South, a wholesome change in our condition, and a certain solution of this vexed question of the negro problem? The idea and theory that worthy, good, intelligent and respectable white people will not and can not cultivate and make cotton and that negro labor alone can make cotton cultivation a success is forever exploded. The South is tired and wearied with the continued agitation of domestic questions calculated and intended to disturb friendly relations between the white people of the South and the negro. We welcome this movement so auspiciously commenced to have white people cultivate the farming lands of the South. We say this in no spirit of hostility."

Unquestionably, the particular "solution" of the question of the negro's status which Mr. Richardson seems to look forward to so confidently would be a vast improvement over present conditions. It would also, without much doubt, be a decided benefit to the negro, in the long run; for if he were to disperse through the several States of the North, he would undoubtedly receive much fairer treatment, so far as his civic rights are concerned, than he has received, or is ever likely to receive, in the South, unless there should be a radical change in existing conditions. He would meet prejudice in the North, as he meets prejudice in the South; but the fact that he would be in so small minority, probably in every State of the Union, would tend in a great degree to mitigate this prejudice, and it is not inconceivable that in course of time race prejudice would so far die out that the negro would attain to full political rights in every State of the Union.

The newly-adopted constitutions of the Southern States, or of most of those States, practically exclude the negro, as such, from the privileges of the franchise. It is claimed that this is necessary in order to protect the body politic against the evil influence of ignorance and irresponsibility. No complaint would lie against restriction of the franchise on this score if the laws were so devised that they would apply equally to all classes of citizens, without discrimination against any man on account of "race, color, or previous condition of servitude." This is precisely what the new Southern constitutions do: they discriminate against the negro simply because he is a black man, without reference to his educational and moral qualifications for citizenship. Of course this discrimination is not open and avowed. It is veiled under various pretexts and expedients, such as the "grandfather clause" in some of the recently-devised constitutions designed to evade the plain provisions of the Constitution of the United States. The ulterior purpose of all these enactments is to disfranchise the negro—the intelligent negro as well as the ignorant negro. This fact is proven conclusively—if proof were needed—by the interpretations which have been placed upon the provisions of these laws in numerous cases, where illiterate whites have been permitted to exercise the privilege of the franchise, while intelligent negroes have been denied the privilege.

In an article published in a recent issue of a well-known Eastern weekly, the negrophobic Governor of Mississippi made this declaration: "I am opposed," said he, "to the nigger's voting, it matters not what his advertised moral and mental qualifications may be. I am just as much opposed to Booker Washington's, with all his Anglo-Saxon reënforcements, voting as I am to voting by the cocoanut-headed, chocolate-colored typical little coon, Andy Dotson, who blacks my shoes every morning. Neither one is fit to perform the supreme functions of citizenship." There are few people in the South, it is to be hoped for the good name of that section, so steeped in blind, unreasoning prejudice as is this cantankerous and pin-headed Governor of a great State. But there is enough prejudice, as has been amply demonstrated, to preclude giving the negro a fair show—at least while he is in a majority, as is the case in some of those States.

Equality of opportunity—a "fair show" in the race of humanity—is all that intelligent negroes ask. To that they are fully entitled. Give it to them, by all means; and then if they fail to work out their own salvation it will be their own fault. It is not demanded of the white man that he shall be generous in this matter. But the white man owes it to himself, no less than to the black man, that he shall be just.

OIL FROM WATER—A CINCH.

The finish of John D. Rockefeller is in sight; for now comes Dr. Leopold Morganstein, who is stopping at the swellest of New York's swell hotels, with an invention for turning the ordinary water of commerce into the highest grade of commercial kerosene ten times better than the best Standard brand, likewise producing a fuel oil that can be sold at half a cent a gallon. What more can people ask than a boon like this, particularly as Doc Morganstein declares that he proposes to instruct the poor as to the method of transforming ordinary rain water, snow water, ditch water, well water, spring water, and other varieties of the liquid of which man is composed, in great part, into "Pratt's Astral," "Elaine" or "Water White" at merely nominal expense, and of a superior quality?

Now let the oil consumer quit worrying, let the fear of the oil octopus vanish from the hearts of the people of the United States and other oil-producing countries, for lo! Doc Morganstein has arrived and will proceed to chop off the tentacles of the devil fish of the sumphole, and put the University of Chicago on quarter rations.

Little does one know just where a giantic trust is to be hit next until its particular enemy heaves in sight. And who would have thought that Doc Morganstein, who is stopping at the Waldorf-Astoria, would be the particular David to put the Goliath of Kerosene out of business.

And, in passing, let us drop a scalding tear over the ruin of Mr. Rockefeller, who has worked so hard to build up a great business and the most perfect monopoly of modern times. It is tough for Mr. Rockefeler to see $29,000,000 worth of dividends wiped out at one fell swoop by a total stranger. It is hard lines to have had a cinch on something, and to see it rudely and ruthlessly broken off in the twinkling of an eye. But there is none in this world so high as not to be subject to a fall, no fortune can be so safeguarded that somebody isn't likely to knock the props from under it; there is no combine, however watched and tended, but some Doc Morganstein may be inventing something or other to put the aforesaid under the everlasting kibosh.

And as for the common people who use oil in their business, let them rejoice in the knowledge that Doc Morganstein has arrived and will proceed to make the Standard Oil Company look like 30 cents as soon as he can organize a company.

Japan may have made a mighty gallant start, but it isn't always the first winner who has the large end of the sack when the lights are turned out on the game. Russia is a great, big, powerful nation, with tremendous resources, an indomitable spirit, and, while striving for peace through her Czar, now that she is in the midst of the fighting it will be a fight to the death. We may look for a bloody record in the Orient, with the chances largely in favor of Russia, whatever the outcome in the preliminary canters.

Now that Wiju has been made an open port, some one asks where is Wiju. Such pitiable ignorance! Why, the merest child should know that Wiju is just across the Yalu River from An Tung in Shing-King, a short distance below Funghwang, and on the same side of the river as Changsieng. If that is not entirely clear, it is on the same line of railway as An-Ju and the next station west from Ku-Song. It is also but a few miles from Taku-Chan.

A dispatch states that the Dowager Empress has just received the diplomatic corps in audience. This report is slightly at variance with the one of the day previous, which stated that the Dowager Empress was dead, but as the war correspondents are doubtless having their troubles anyway, we will not bother them by calling their attention to these little inaccuracies in detail.

If Japan had a few shiploads of Missouri mules to match those 500 wagons she captured from the enemy a few days since, operations in the Orient would resemble old days in the United States when the wagon boss was almost as big a man at the rear of the column as the commanding general was on the right.

While our neighbors in the Orient are battling for their rights, as they severally understand what their rights are, the United States will supply the "spuds" at the market price. Likewise such other provisions as the embattled hosts may find it necessary to place their orders for.

OUR HAPPY LAND.

Francis Murphy Compares Southern California With Palestine and Urges the Law of Love.

Fruit bearing was the burden of Francis Murphy's thought last evening at Blanchard Hall. As usual the auditorium was crowded, and the old temperance war horse, whose aggressive spirit has been tempered by love for his fellow-man, voiced the sentiments of his heart in an exhortation to right living.

To Francis Murphy Southern California is but another name for Palestine, a country possessing heaven's favor and to live a life apart from God under these beneficent skies to him is sacrilige. "With such environment how can one resort to debauchery?" said the speaker. "What more could a benign Father do for us than has been done? And what return are we making? When I look at the land made sacred by deeds of mercy and by the ministry of the Son of Man and again contemplate the barren wastes foretold by prophecy I shudder for this land of promise of ours. The command He gave to His followers then comes to us today, 'Love one another.' This done and the evils of society will find adjustment and good will will displace hatred and discontent."

A pleasing feature of the meeting was the singing of Phineas Naires, a reclaimed operatic vocalist. Solos were also rendered by Miss Stella Callender and J. W. Eccleston.

PATRIOTIC COMMEMORATION AT EAST SIDE CHURCH.

Pastor Forbes Discourses Upon the Patriarchs of American Liberty. Grand Army Men and Relief Corps Members in Attendance.

The birth of Washington suggested theme and tempered discourse last evening at the East Side Congregational Church.

In the audience were members of the Kenesaw Post, G.A.R., and its auxiliary Relief Corps. The church was decorated with the national colors and the singing was of a patriotic character. The address of the evening was delivered by Pastor Frank S. Forbes, who had for his subject "The Patriarchs of American Liberty." He said, in part:

"The first American to advocate the ideas found in the Declaration of Independence was Rev. John Wise, who died fifty years, almost to a day, before the battle of Lexington. Mr. Wise was fined, imprisoned and finally deprived of his right of ministry because of his advocacy of civil and religious liberty for the American colonies. His sermons were the first public utterances, his letters the first written documents, and his books the first published expressions of American independence. I would call this man the Abraham of our liberties. He stood on the mountain top of heavenly vision, and was the first of Americans to behold the dawn of a new day of freedom. He stood alone, and died almost an unknown man.

"There has been much discussion as to who was the first American to suggest the idea of a continental congress. The friends of Samuel Adams and the friends of Richard Henry Lee have spent many hours trying to determine which of the two patriots was the first to advocate this idea. The truth is, neither of these men were the first to suggest this, though both have been credited with the honor. The Rev. Jonathan Mayhew of Boston, six years before Adams sent out his famous 'circular letter,' and two years before Lee wrote this letter, advocating a 'select committee,' delivered a sermon in which he advocated some kind of a convention of representatives of all the colonies 'as the only means of perfecting our liberties.' One month later, on his death bed, he sent forth a letter urging the calling of such a convention without delay. I would call Jonathan Mayhew, the John the Baptist of the American Congress. Lee seconded this idea, and Samuel Adams was the genius to crystallize the sentiment and to put the wheels of freedom in motion.

"What a gathering was that first session of the first American Congress. In the back of the room was a man 42 years old, with a face which all men read. It was one of those faces which has written on it the message of the hour. There were other things peculiar to notice about this man. When the other delegates stood for the morning prayers this man knelt. But when he did stand he seemed in his greatness, like the first king of Israel, to be head and shoulders above his fellows. During the first week of the convention he spoke but once, and then he merely arose and said, 'Mr. President, I second the motion.' During the second week a delegate from South Carolina, in the midst of an eloquent speech, turned to this man in the back of the room with the face, and said: 'There sits a man who has not spoken here, but in the Virginia Legislature he made the most eloquent speech I ever heard; he said he would raise a thousand men at his own expense and march at their head to the relief of Boston;' and then everybody in the hall cheered for George Washington. Thus was the 'Father of Our Country' introduced to the representatives of all the people.

"Patrick Henry was there. He came all the way from Virginia on horseback. From Mt. Vernon he and Washington rode side by side. To no other instrument of freedom do we owe more than to the silver tongue of this great orator, the Demosthenes of America. Christopher Gadsen from South Carolina was there. For ten years he had been preaching the independence of the colonies to his neighbors in the Southland. Standing in the glory and strength of his manhood he said: 'I am ready to go and fight the Red Coats wherever I can find them between Carolina and Boston.' And when some timid fellow warned him if he were not more careful as to what he said the British soldiers would burn their seaport towns, he replied: 'Our seaport towns are built of brick and wood, if they are burned we can rebuild them; but liberty once gone is gone forever.' This is good sense even in these days.

"Richard Henry Lee was there with the culture, wealth, and aristocracy of old Virginia back of him. To Lee belongs the honor of saying: 'I move that these united colonies are, and of right ought to be free and independent States'—and to have said these immortal words is enough for one man.

"There are solemn lessons we need to learn from the lives of these noble dead whose very dust we venerate. Our liberties never needed stronger champions than they do at this hour. There are enemies in our land today more dangerous than those our fathers faced. They wear not 'red coats,' but they unfurl red flags. There is room for only one flag in this country, and there is no room for ideas or customs not symbolized by that flag. It stands for individual liberty, so long as that liberty is consistent with the public good. There are customs brought to this country by people who have never yet learned the noble ideas for which the old flag stands. They must be taught that it stands for the highest in religion, in education, in politics, and in business. To teach them this I know of no better way than to inspire them with the lives of our fathers who purchased with a great price the liberties we enjoy."

"AS WE SOW, SO WE REAP."

TEMPERANCE TALK BY NATIONAL W.C.T.U. ORGANIZER.

Mrs. Helen Bullock of Elmira (N. Y.) Discourses on Seed-sowing. Plea Made for the Observance of the Curfew Ordinance.

Mrs. Helen Bullock, national organizer of the W.C.T.U., resident of Elmira, N. Y., occupied the pulpit of the First Christian Church last evening. Mrs. Bullock is on a tour of the States and is giving several months to aggressive work on the Pacific Coast.

"In the spiritual and moral world," said the speaker, "the matter of sowing and reaping is subject to the same laws as in the physical. Good seed, carefully nurtured, means a good harvest. He that soweth to the flesh shall of the flesh reap corruption; but he that soweth to the spirit shall of the spirit reap life everlasting. Sow an act, reap character; sow character, reap destiny. As from day to day we sow—oh, so often carelessly, do we stop to question what shall be the harvest?

"Our prisons are filled with drink-cursed victims. Few are vicious at heart. Ask the man behind the bars what brought him there. The invariable answer is 'drink.' In your show windows I see the cards of the Anti-Saloon League. The first line attracted my attention. 'Shall we close the saloons of Los Angeles?' What a query. There can be but one answer from God-fearing, self-respecting people.

"But the evil does not end with the closing of the open saloon. How about the homes where the wine bottle has place upon the table and sideboard? The indulgence seems of trifling import, but there is where habit is formed, and the restaurant with its upper chambers and its suggestion of evil follows. Fashion favors the practice and principle is easily sacrificed under the influence of custom, made respectable by those claiming fellowship in the church.

"I would also urge the observance of the curfew ordinance. To some wiseacres the ringing of a bell or the blowing of a whistle at 9 p.m. seems nonsensical. But let me tell you that at Indianapolis the ringing of the curfew has, during the past year, reduced the percentage of arrests among children 80 per cent. In my own city, in six months there has been a decrease of 50 per cent. Instructors in the public schools report better lessons, and the libraries register an increase in the taking out of juvenile literature."

FIVE CRIMES BY SAME MEN.

Theory of Police as to Most Recent Hold-ups.

Victim's Description Fits in Each of the Cases.

Latest Loser—Poor Laborer Robbed of His All.

Within the past ten days five highway robberies have been reported to the police and in every instance where the victim was able to give any description whatever of the assailants, all of the accounts have been practically the same. The police therefore believe that all of these crimes have been committed by the same two men, but the victims have not as yet been able to furnish any clew to their identity.

The highwaymen are under 30 years of age, smooth shaven, of medium height and build, wear dark clothes and dark hats and their manner of working has been the same in every crime. With one exception they have operated almost wholly north of First street and east of Broadway, in that section of the city populated mostly by laborers and by those who keep late hours. They have secured sufficient booty to make the risk well worth their while if they choose such times for attack as to indicate that they are familiar with the movements of the police in that part of the city.

Tucker was their latest victim. He appeared at the Police Station early yesterday morning, his clothing covered with mud and showing evidences of having been in a struggle. He reported that he had been held up and robbed of everything of value which he possessed.

Tucker is employed in the grading crew of the contractors who are preparing the roadbed of the electric line through the valley to Tropico. He had been at the night in the city and shortly after two o'clock yesterday morning as he approached the corner of East First and Alameda streets, he was accosted by two men, one of whom asked him for a match. He had no matches and told the man so, when both men seized him, throwing him to his knees. He started to fight, but desisted when one of the highwaymen pressed the barrel of a revolver against his head and told him he would blow his head off if he did not keep quiet. The robbers then permitted him to regain his feet, while one kept him covered with a gun the other searched him. They found pay checks issued by his employer for $7.35 and $5.55 and also about $3 in cash. They also stole a number of papers of value only to Tucker. After completing the robbery the highwaymen walked south along Alameda Street and disappeared. Tucker found a policeman, who sent him to the station.

AN IMPENDING CATASTROPHE.

WAR IS STARTED AGAINST LOS ANGELES FELINES.

Local Men Pronounce Pussy a Breeder of Disease, and Favor Petition to Decimate the Ranks of Nocturnal Prowlers.

The host of Los Angeles cats (all say—"Adios!"

Even in the kitty stage of their development—old war-scarred, gray-furred tabbies, homeless, roving bachelors and maidens—they will be consigned to a place from which they cannot come back, if the conspirators now forming is carried out.

It is to be a crusade without prejudice. Tread every sleek, beribboned aristocrat of the family pet not kept within doors, takes desperate chances when venturing along the back yard wooden fence.

The warfare soon to be started on cats is said to have been inaugurated by medical men—and doubtless with good reason. Scarlet fever, diphtheria, and smallpox are easily spread and communicated by a cat on nocturnal wanderings. In holding friendly intercourse with neighbors of this kind, and while the musical members of the bunch are lifting up their voices in song, the contaminated cat rubs noses with other felines and spreads a message of death, pestilence and disease into some adjacent home.

HEALTH OFFICER WANTS WAR.

City Health Officer Mathis is one of those in favor of action to cope with what has become a pest in some localities.

"However I have a case of infectious disease in the county," said Dr. Mathis, "I order the dog and cat of the home killed, and see that it is done. The only exception I make is where animals are pets and valued, and then they must be confined until danger has passed. The animals are required to a formaldehyde bath before the house is disinfected. Owners are responsible for the spread of disease, so to what extent we don't know. We believe that as children fondle cats so much, cats are largely responsible for the conveyance and spreading of certain of the contagious diseases that are to a large extent familiar to children. If an effort is made by the medical men to do something to correct this, it may be counted in."

Arguments have been made in Cincinnati that have satisfied the authorities that cats are responsible for the spreading of disease, and stringent measures are contemplated. In 1900 cats were kept at the City Pound for the purpose of suppressing the plague of rats, but it was discovered that the cats in their prowlings were spreading disease and the plan was given full sway while the funeral obsequies of a large consignment of cats were duly observed.

THE FLEA AGAIN.

Now it is that Pussy, or her master Tom conveys disease is not definitely known. Some doctors believe that an intermediary, possibly a flea peculiar to the cat, passes from animal to the child, and vice versa, and in this way disease is spread.

However this may be the enormous number of cats that have no permanent home has become such a danger that it is no uncommon sight in certain parts of the city to see six and eight or assorted sizes on some back fence with no one to champion their cause against the cat-catcher if such

Blanket selling continues brisk
Look-ahead housekeepers are taking advantage of this stock adjustment—buying for next winter's needs. These illustrations show that it will pay good, big interest on the investment.
At $5.25: Eleven-quarter blankets of white wool woven very closely and weighing five pounds. Edges are taped with silk. One of our best $6.50 sellers.
At $4.00: Ten-quarter blankets of pure white wool, weighing four pounds, taped edges, pink, blue or red borders; splendid values at our regular price of $5.

A wash goods stock worth seeing
Three exceptionally strong values from a collection of Washable Dress Stuffs that includes just about every fabric that has met fashion's approval.
At 25c—White mercerized Waistings in pique and Marseilles effects, checkerboard Marseilles and figured stripes.
At 25c—Irish Dimities, our own importations from Belfast; cordad effects, stripes, dots and figures; black and colors on white grounds. All new.
At 25c—Linen mixed Suitings for shirt waists, suits and skirts—fancy effects in brown, blue, violet, green, white flecks.

Women's suits
The new season's suits have extremely short coats—a welcome change.
There's a jauntiness about these that will appeal to every good dresser.
And there's stability in the tailoring of all Coulter suits—their shapeliness is there to stay.
At $16.50 to $25—Walking suits of smart mixtures, with carefully tailored Eton coats.
At $27.50—Military styles in brown, blue and black cheviot, tastily trimmed with braid.

Women's $1.25 nightgowns $1.00
Three or four styles of our $1.25 Gowns are to be displaced by others. This price-cut will hurry them out.
One style is of cambric with yoke of Swiss embroidery and fagoting.
Another is of cambric, in V neck style; yoke of tucks, Val. lace and insertion.
Another is of cambric, high neck style, with hemstitched yoke, collar and cuffs.

$1.50 to $2.50 neckwear $1.25
A collection of stylish Silk Stocks, such as we've sold right along at $1.50 to $2.50, slated for quick clearance at $1.25. Dozens of fancy patterns and colorings.

Chiffon Ruffs At 1-2
Luxuriously rich Ruffs of chiffon trimmed with swansdown and some with ermine, $5.00 to $13.75; formerly $10.00 to $27.50.

Black silk sale The fourth of a series.
If you've bought at any of our former silk sales, you'll come without stopping to read farther than the foregoing headline.
But to those who don't know the Coulter store, we wish to emphasize the fact that these silks are of unassailable quality, and the comparative prices indicate ACTUAL reductions—not cuts from fictitious valuations.
When such staples as black silks are buyable at 15 per cent. to 25 per cent. under real values, it's time to provide for far-in-the-future needs.
A few of the many items:

Black Peau de Soies--
20-inch, regularly 75c, now 62½c
21-inch, regularly $1.00, now 85c
23-inch, regularly $1.25, now 97½c

New Iron Beds
Largest Line in Southern California

We have just received a very large shipment of iron beds, including new pattern enameled in all the popular colors. They are prettily trimmed with brass and range in price from $3.50 up to $60.00. Many of them have the new patent reversible double hook rails, which make them more solid, and either high or low beds. We also have a very fine line of brass beds ranging from $28 up.
Hodges' Fiber Carpets
Our new stock is now in, and as we are sole agents for this superior floor covering, it is the only stock in the city. The Hodges Fiber Carpets are more durable than any matting, will not collect dust, are not eaten by moths and are very inexpensive. We have a large line of very pretty patterns. We also have them in rugs rahging in sizes from 18x26 inches to 9x32 feet.

At the Churches Yesterday.

Dr. Pitner on Resurrection.

THE Apostle Paul's masterful exposition of the resurrection of the dead, recorded in the fifteenth chapter of First Corinthians, gave the Rev. Dr. John L. Pitner his theme yesterday morning at the Westlake Methodist Church.

Arguing from Paul's climax, where death is swallowed up in victory through the meeting of the law's demands by God's unspeakable gift, the speaker drew a picture of personal responsibility and privilege that made the old gospel "live again" in the hearts of every interested auditor.

"It is not my purpose to preach a funeral sermon," said Dr. Pitner, "but I earnestly covet for you all an awakening to responsibility and privilege. In every breast there is ever active the law of self-preservation—a struggle against final dissolution. Our history has much to do with tragedy. The winds that devastate for our fevered brow, and there is ever present the question, 'What does life hold for us?' But above the blast there comes to the listening ear a whisper of hope, reminding us that these present ills are but for a passing moment, and eternity's triumphs hold for us beneficent reward.

"Death is one of the most logical things of this universe of ours. Life is the great mystery. What is life? Who can comprehend it? There is much said of the fear of death, but it is not the 'pale horse' that causes consternation. The mere laying down of a tired frame is of small import. There are few that would not welcome rest, but what after death? That is what causes the face to blanch and the heart-strings to quiver. Our personal responsibility; the thought of being brought face to face with the deeds done in the body are considerations requiring grace and fortitude, which, without the consolations of Paul's triumphant gospel, make cowards of us all.

"The apostle tells us that the strength of sin is the law. Consciousness of wrong-doing gives the law its sting. The State law against theft has for us no terrors. We have not transgressed along that line. But how about God's law? Again and again have we trampled its provisions under foot, and at death the mere memory of a thousand wrongs stings and affrights.

"But gracious provision has been made. Death is swallowed up in victory. A perfect salvation has been provided. Listen to Paul's climax and exhortation: 'Therefore, my beloved brethren, be ye steadfast, unmoveable, always abounding the work of the Lord, forasmuch as ye know that your labor is not in vain in the Lord.' Isn't that triumphant? In return for victory over the grave, for the agonies of Gethsemene, for the tortures of the cross, for the temptations, trials and heart-pangs of Christ's ministry, in return for the terrors of the tomb we are exhorted to steadfastness, to unmoveable purpose, to constant endeavor, knowing that we cannot lift a finger in the game of the Lord without securing beneficent results. Such is your church ideal? Is it to appropriate to the means of grace and with folded hands pass by on the other side? My conception of a church is that of activity, in doing for others. Steadfast! Yea, but only in purpose and in spirit, prompting a closer walk with God and the marking out of a path that will lead to salvation where the Christ too often walks alone. Unmoveable? Yes, when the light has revealed duty. Unmoveable as to what the world may think or say—only mindful of the requirements of Him who has commanded to go and to minister. Always abounding does the requirement. You ask, 'What can I do?' There is work for every hand. A cup of cold water to a thirsty soul. It isn't much, but it given in the Master's name, a disciple's reward is sure. A word of sympathy? Oh, the hearts that ache for a kind word. It don't cost much to be kind, but how we seem to begrudge to minister. Always abounding does the requirement. You ask, 'What can I do?' There is work for every hand. A cup of cold water to a thirsty soul. It isn't much,

The World of Sport—Veterans at the Traps—Golf Tournament Today.

GUY LOVELACE YET CHAMPION.

BLUE LAD FROM HANFORD WINS BLUEROCK MEDALS.

Five-man Team Shoot Produces Fair Lot of Scores and Attracts Much Interest Because of Even Matching of Contestants.

By long odds the feature of yesterday the bluerock tournament was the appearance of the veteran saucer shakers. Scores were not a bit sensational; conditions were less favorable than on the first day and the traps seemed screwed up to the last notch, throwing all kinds of illegal angle birds and a series of change of pace straightaways that knocked all hope of long runs out of the minds of the bluerock artists.
When the club ordered its last traps set for the fastest machines that were in stock, and from the averages they probably got as good as the fastest people dare make. Some of the shaky cracks who are running off their ninety and eighty straight are regularly requested to attend the next tournament on the Los Angeles gun grounds, and see what real scores are like.
Also a trapshot, always in the game seems to be a rule locally. It was about time when the first of the antediluvian bows hove in sight upon the horizon, and the arrival of Jim Maxfield was announced. By the time he had been persuaded to break into the game again another cloud materialized in the person of Pa Bruner, who also couldn't stay away. Before the wise guy had completed the enrollment of Fred Lyon, Maxfield and Bruner in a veteran's squad, another exultant yell from the gate announced the arrival of Jim Gibson, and with John Schumacher to fill out the five, started down the line.
Their scores would never have revealed the secret that they once knew how to shoot bluerocks. One might well have thought the quintette had been in the game every week; their work stacked up well with that of any of the pets.
After the warm-up events had been disposed of and the medals came to action, considerable speculation was indulged in regarding the outcome of the individual championship contest, and not many expected Guy Lovelace to duplicate his record performance of last May at Ocean Park and capture the event with another score of 47, but that is exactly what he did do.
Opening the first half of the shoot with a clean score of 25, for which he was warmly congratulated, the slim lad from Hanford started his second string with a break, and then dropped another, but rallied, hitting in the middle until the sixteenth bird, which must have "got through." With 22 for the last his 47 looked like the money, but there were several others who were not done and out by any means—Julius of San Diego, Arnold of Oxnard, and Hagerman; but Julian's 46 was the closest hit made by an eligible. Stephens of Ontario tied Lovelace, but being a non-resident his 47 got nothing.
The five-man team shoot attracted a great deal of interest from the even matching of the four contestants. At the finish only about one bird per man stood between the winning and losing teams, and the shooting was watched closely throughout. Team No. 2, Lovelace, Breer, Smith, Blanchard and Stevens, proved the winners with 109.
Scores were:
Team No. 1—Arnold, 24; Allen, 21; Wright, 18; Lefever, 21; Julian, 19; total, 103.
Team No. 2—Lovelace, 24; Breer, 21;
Smith, 23; Blanchard, 19; Stephens, 23;
total, 109.
Team No. 3—Hagerman, 22; Vaughan,
20; Sylvester, 19; J. Gibson, 22; Witman,
24; total, 107.
Team No. 4—Seaver, 24; Justins, 22;
M. Gibson, 20; Gilbert, 18, Orr, 20;
total, 104.
The miss-and-outs created the usual amount of fun. J. F. Gibson of Nord-hoff won the first, which was distinctly a Gibson affair, as "Little" Gibson stood up with "Big" Gibson until the end, sending all the rest to the barn.
Some of those who were frozen at the start were not satisfied that it could be done again and another miss-and-out was framed up, which went quite a distance, S. R. Smith having to shoot twenty-fourth bird in order to win from Witman. "Big" Gibson stayed until the seventeenth round, but was then knocked out by a right bird delivered by a quartering bird, which made an unexpected swerve.

Notes of the Shoot.

Adams, the Spokane shooter, is a of the "free and easy" style. Some find it necessary to tie themselves knots at the score; Stephens peels his coat, stands on his left and right toe squarely facing traps, and breaks as many as any them.
H. Seaver of the Winchester Reting Arms Company broke the high score for the two days, approxi-ately 99 per cent. Guy Lovelace and Stephan were well up, but the rank and file were hovering around the 90's, where ordinarily they would have been around ninety.
Hagerman, Witman, Orr, Seaver, Jus-tins, Knight and several others, who did not yesterday, will take in the shoot today.
The merchandise event was cut out today, the time being devoted to regular events.
The Peck system of dividing the purse let nearly everybody have a share. The club did well on the tournament, at 2 cents a bird, though yesterday's turnout was below expectations.
Fred Gibson is the smallest man handling a shotgun in this vicinity, and is one of the most proficient. He would make a good jockey so far as weight goes, but seems able to swing a Smith pigeon gun without much fatigue.
Yesterday morning was dark, and shooting considerably in consequence. About noon the shooting became pick up a little, and the work of the team shoot was more nearly what could be expected from the local men than any other part of the tournament.
"Dutch" Schumacher was there with the large, accurate eye yesterday, and shot like a hungry traveling representative for a powder house.
"Little Willie" Seaver and Hippesley Justins shot off their usual competition, and Seaver got the honors. This pair never meet at a tournament without friendly rivalry setting in. Justins is out of form at present.
The Oxnard people are figuring on a tournament for the future and expect a good crowd of local shooters when they pull off their events.
Guy Loveiace now has both the medals—the Tufts-Lyon and Individual.
Fred Mills turned both over to him
the first day, saying he was a good man to keep them, this before Guy had won either. In addition the slim lad from Hanford has the Ocean Park trophy dangling at his belt.
E. L. Blanchard is still shooting "Old Aunt Betsy" and expects to stay with the old girl as long as she will hold together.
Four moneys in the twenty-bird events did not make a hit with some of the shooters, who complained they got nothing when they won.

Minor Baseball.

The Hughes Bros.' team defeated the Pacific Electric team yesterday morning, 9 to 4. In the afternoon they defeated the Tufts-Lyon team, score 5 to 4.
The Bishop team defeated the Alles yesterday at Chutes Park; score 3 to 2. Pitcher Jones of the Alles was touched up for eight hits, three of which were two-baggers. Gabe and Mockler, in the points for Bishops, held their opponents down to three hits.
The Bishops go to Alhambra today.
The National team defeated the Clear-waters at Hynes yesterday afternoon; score 7 to 6. The Nationals would like to hear from any team in or out of the city. All challenges to Eddie Moore,
No. 722 Kohler street, Los Angeles.

FINE CHANCE FOR FAIR GOLFERS.

HOW MIXED FOURSOMES MIGHT BE RESTORED TO FAVOR.

Another "Choice Score" Tournament at Country Club Today—Dinner Challenge Match May be Revived—Big Events in Near Future.

The Country Club gives today a second edition of the "Choice Score" tournament, which proved so popular at its initiation two months ago. It is to be an all-day affair, eighteen holes in the morning and eighteen in the afternoon, handicap medal play as before. The customary classes, A and B, will each have prizes hung up.
The links are now in perfect condition, and a large entry is expected.

LEAP YEAR OPPORTUNITY.

The usual monthly mixed foursomes for the Connell cup and Barker clock honors are booked for Saturday next.
For some reason these contests seem to have waned in manly favor; and, consequently, many fair dames who would fain grace the sward are minus the necessary squires. As this is Leap Year, why not request the ladies to do the inviting? If, under such conditions, the campaign were entered into with typical feminine ardor, it is a foregone conclusion that there would be a mighty round-up of those hardened Benedicts and professed atoics who now slip away to the long course. It is true, no doubt, that the popular boys might be fairly run off their feet, while some of the poor old codgers would surely sigh in vain for recognition. But, what matter? These latter could herd together and bolster each other up with stories of the good old times when "Kitty and Molly, and Peggy and Meg"—and so on. It is an innovation which might be tried to exceeding good purpose.

DINNER MATCH POSSIBLE.

The challenge match for a dinner between the regular club team and a so-called second team, which was a delightful feature of last season's affairs, is still somewhat in embryo—mainly because of the abundant supply of other events. It may, however, take shape next Sunday. Sumner F.
Hunt is in charge of the arrangements. The present team is so strong this year that it is not at all likely any other eleven will have any show —even with the most liberal bisquing that may be conceded. But it is all in the interests of thoroughgoing sport, and that, after all, is the chief thing to be sought.

YEAR'S GREAT EVENT.

The open championship of Southern California—72 holes, medal play—is scheduled for the Los Angeles Country Club links on Friday and Saturday, March 4 and 5. This is the great event of the year, open to professionals and amateurs, irrespective of membership or residence. One hundred and fifty dollars in plate or money prizes is offered. It is expected that there will be a goodly entry list, some noted professionals included.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

The women's championship of Southern California is booked this year for the Pasadena Country Club links on Thursday, March 17. This contest is to be all 18-hole match play, including the finals. The title of champion, a cup to be held for a year by the club from which the winner enters, and gold, silver and two bronze medals for the first four, comprise the very generous prize list presented by the Southern California Golf Association.

SAN DIEGO TAKES LAST.

BEATS SANTA ANA; SERIES ENDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P. M.]

SAN DIEGO, Feb. 21.—The last of the ball games between San Diego and Santa Ana was played this afternoon, and proved a fairly good contest. The pitchers were Thomas for San Diego, and Drinkwater for Santa Ana. Score:
San Diego, 9; Santa Ana, 8.

AUTHORITY OF GAME WARDENS.

IMPORTANT SUIT FILED TO DETERMINE THIS QUESTION.

Contention is That Common Carrier Cannot Permit Confiscation by Warden of Game in Transit Without First Showing Violation of Law.

A suit, one of the purposes of which is to test some of the provisions of the State game law, and particularly to have a judicial determination of the extent of the authority of the county game wardens, was filed late Saturday afternoon in Justice Young's court by Attorneys Davis and Rush.
Henry Goehring is plaintiff, and Wells, Fargo & Co. defendants. The amount involved is only $48.29, but it is not the amount which makes the case important.
The complaint recites that the plaintiff had consigned to him two shipments of wild ducks, neither of which exceeded the legal bag limit, which were brought to Los Angeles by Wells, Fargo & Co. It is further alleged that County Game Warden Pritchard went to the local office of the express company and, despite the fact that the company was acting only as a common carrier and had no title to the ducks, the game warden was permitted to confiscate them. Judgment is therefore demanded for the value of the ducks and for expenses.
The attorneys in the case say they propose to have the question settled as to whether a game warden can seize goods in transit without first showing that there has been a violation of the law. It is their desire to have as many points decided as possible, so that the public may know
the extent of the authority of the game wardens.

REAL BRITISH FOOTBALL AT FIESTA PARK TODAY.

The people of Los Angeles will have an opportunity to see a football game as played in Great Britain and Canada and various parts of the United States.
The Los Angeles Association Football Club has organized and consists of many players from some of the most prominent clubs of Great Britain and Canada. The game today at Fiesta Park will be between Pasadena and Los Angeles.
The club has sent a challenge to the Kilties for a game to be played when they visit to this city. The Kilties are born kickers and will give the local players a hard battle. The line-up for today's match is appended. Kick-off at 3 p.m. Referee, Dr. G. Bower of Hollywood.
Pasadena—Goal, W. Locke; backs, G. F. Gadsden, H. A. Williams; half-backs, H. Pierce, J. McCombe, A. E.
Haddon; forwards, D. Hallyburton
(captain) P. McDougall, F. Smith, G.
Yorke, F. Poysey; reserves, D. H.
Canne, C. Packman.
Los Angeles—Goal, A. Appleford; backs, H. Clark, T. P. Higgins; half-backs, S. G. Paul, J. Watson, G. Sully; forwards, J. E. Saint, J. Lees, J. Connor, E. Smith, (captain) A. Thompson; reserves, G. Richards, T. Hughes.

MANY START IN FEATURE EVENT.

REDFERN AND HILDEBRAND ARGUE SUPREMACY AGAIN.

Local Turfites Dubious About Naming Riverside Handicap Winner as Several Starters Look to Have a Chance—Big Race at Oakland.

Horsemen who think that little Hildebrand is the master of the $10,000 jockey, Arthur Redfern, at hard finishing, will doubtless have another chance to prove or disprove their pet theory when the boys hook up together in the rich Riverside Handicap at Ascot Park this afternoon—an event which will bring together beyond doubt the highest class field of the meeting up to date—eight starters, any one of which has a chance to land the event.
Redfern will probably have the mount upon Charlie Durnell's stake winner, Nitrate, while Adams will wear the Durnell colors in the stable's other entry, the big chestnut, Golden Rule, who today starts with 106 pounds up on a track which should be to his liking. Durnell is out to win the Riverside Handicap, and has signified an intention to start his best horses, but he will have no walkover for the event, as Ed Corrigan's Haviland, Bragg, M. F. Tarpey and the high-weighted Oarsman, carrying the top imposi of 126 pounds, are all likely to go. Of the ten entries at least eight will face the starter, and consensus of expert opinion among horsemen is that Golden Rule will about race the heads off the rest, himself included, and leave Nitrate a chance to nose out a well-earned victory at the finish. M. F. Tarpey will be well played to show.
Stake events are in order today. At Oakland, the California Derby is down for decision. Mike Daly, who won it last year with Claude, is convinced he has just as good a chance for the honors this year with Judge; and Burns & Waterhouse are counting strongly upon Rockaway and Toledo to outargue Formaster and the fleet field which will give Starter Jake Holtman his troubles at the breakaway.
This week will, in fact, be a week of stake events. On Saturday at Ascot will be decided the Ascot Derby, worth over $2000 to the winner and easily the feature event of the meeting. From the discussion already started, a heavy entry seems probable.
Returning to the argument of supremacy between Redfern and Hildebrand, it must be conceded the admirers of Hildebrand have much on their side, taking the local showing of both boys as a criterion. At nearly every opportunity when the boys met on a parity, Hildebrand has received the decision. He outrode Redfern Saturday, and on previous occasions showed willingness to go through holes too small for the $10,000 boy to attempt.

SANTA FE AND RUSHERS TIED.

COMMERCIAL BOWLING LEAGUE PLAY CLOSES THIS WEEK.

Simmons of Rushers Leads Individuals—Leap Year Tournament Led by Mrs. Bates and Lustig—Wind-up of Interurban Tournament.

The Commercial Bowling League will close its play this week. The Santa Fé and Rushers are tied for first place, each having won fifteen matches out of eighteen played. Simmons of the Rushers leads the individuals. De Lan-ty had high score, 258 and high average for the week. Standing as follows:

	Played.	Won.	Lost.	Pt.
Santa Fe	18	15	3	.833
Rushers	18	15	3	.833

Brunswick	17	6	11	.353
Bartlett	17	6	11	.353
Al'Ards	18	6	12	.278

It is a game of ties, the Brunswick and Bartlett are also tied for fifth place.

LEAP YEAR TOURNAMENT.

In the Leap Year tournament now going on at the Monarch, Mrs. Bates and Lustig are in the lead and in all probability will win out and be declared the champions. Standing follows:

INTERURBAN ENDS SOON.

The Interurban Bowling Association closes its tournament this week. There are several postponed games to be played which will be wound up Friday evening at the Monarch alleys.
The standings of teams and individuals are as follows:

TEN STRIKES.

While practicing on the Monarch alleys last Saturday, Mrs. H. C. Scott and Alf Mackenzie challenged P. Miller of Chicago and J. Bowron, who were bowling on the next alley, to a friendly match and the joke is on the two crack bowlers for Mrs. Scott and her partner won two out of the three games.
"Minnie" Dee is fast rounding into his old-time form. Last Thursday while playing with the Monarch team against a picked team he averaged 210 for three games and followed it up after the match with 233, 204 and 200, making an average of 211 for the six games.
Mrs. Bates did some high rolling on the Monarch last week also making the highest ladies' score for the week.
Her scores were 168, 210, 220; total, 598;
average, 199 1-3.

MANY BACK MOUNT ROSE FOR THE PLATE.

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 21.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Three rounds of the fourth annual California Plate and the first round of the eighth renewal of the Belle Brandon Challenge Cup were run this afternoon at Union Coursing Park. These stakes will be finished tomorrow and a consolation stake will also be run. The sport was good in every respect and there will be redoubled interest in the concluding rounds.
Eight dogs are left in the contest for the California Plate. They are Tillie R. and Sacramento Boy, both Sacramento dogs; Mount Rose, Palo Alto, Reta S., Sea Lion, Gambit and Full Moon, all local dogs, with the exception of Gambit, an imported English hound. The favorite for the plate is Mount Rose, with Full Moon a close second. The Sacramento dogs have many followers, and it is considered that Gambit has a chance to win.
The thirty-six puppies entered for the Belle Brandon Cup ran very well, Flower Girl and Little Freda showing exceptionally fine form.
Pocatello is the favorite for the consolation stake

Perfect Digestion Means Health.

A Good Stomach Keeps Every Part of the Body in Perfect Condition and Disease Cannot Break In.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR BAD STOMACHS.

You Can Also Enjoy Mince Pie If You Take Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

If your stomach is all right, you are all right. Why are growing boys nearly always healthy? Because they have not abused their stomachs by excessive eating and drinking and weakened or destroyed the functions of that organ. Because they eat what Nature demands of good wholesome food and then take plenty of exercise and run and romp and help out in the process of digestion and keep their stomachs strong and well. The same is true of men who lead active outdoor lives and engage in physical activity. Their digestion is perfect, the food nutriment is properly assimilated, the blood is pure and healthy and you seldom hear of them being afflicted with headache, backache, kidney trouble, liver trouble, constipation or any other of the common ills that always afflict those with bad stomachs.
If there is anything wrong with you, be sure your stomach is right. If it is not right, get it right and do it in the right way—that is the natural way.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are a natural remedy for all stomach disorders and weakness. They possess exactly the same properties that the gastric juices and other digestive fluids of the stomach possess and they actually do the digestive work of the stomach and enable that organ to rest and recuperate and become sound and well. They act in a mild, natural manner and cause no disturbance in the digestive organs. They prevent any fermentation of the food which causes sour stomach.
Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets instill health into every part of the human body. They compel perfect digestion of the food and perfect assimilation of the food nutriment. Every organ and part of the body is kept in repair and good health necessarily results. At the same time the stomach, being relieved of the work of digestion, gets well and strong.
A prominent Detroit physician says: "I prescribe Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets for all cases of stomach trouble. I have tried many prescriptions, including a number of my own, but find nothing that gives such universal relief as this remedy. They are natural, harmless and thoroughly effective in their work, and while I have a natural antipathy to patent medicines, I do not hesitate to prescribe and recommend Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets on all occasions."
The above is no exception. The best physicians are prescribing them all over the land. They can be had of any druggist for 50 cents a box, and if your own doctor is real honest with you, he will tell you frankly that there is nothing on earth so good for dyspepsia as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

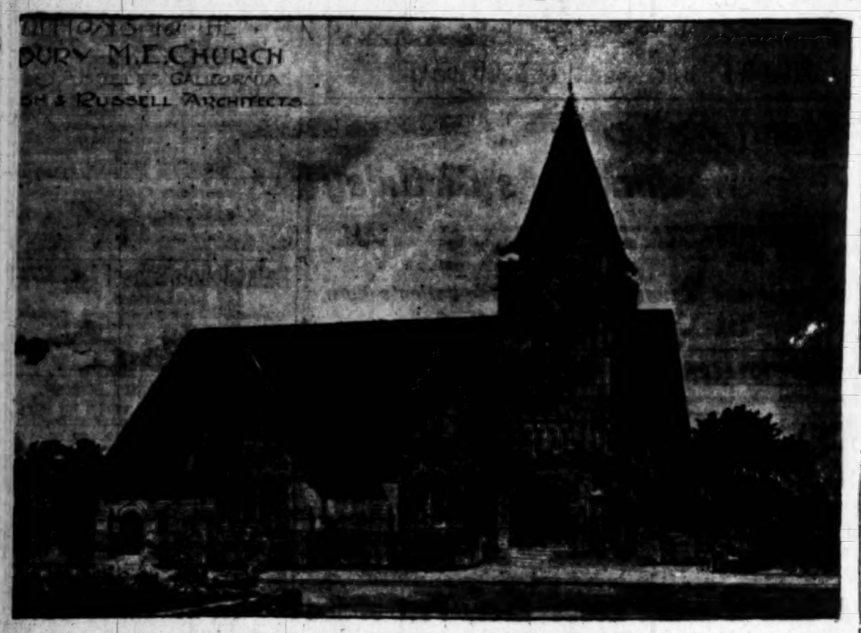
Thousands Subscribed for Beautiful New Church.



ASBURY CHURCH, the oldest Methodist edifice in the city of Los Angeles, and a landmark for the past twenty-one years on the East side, is to be set aside by the general trend for public improvements, and will be replaced by a beautiful new structure.

This was made possible by the congregation yesterday in raising $7672 for the new enterprise. Work on the structure will begin as soon as the minor details can be arranged, and the congregation will worship in its home within three months.

The cost of the building is estimated at $10,000. The plans were prepared by Marsh & Russell, and include some of the best ideas in church building. The present edifice will be moved to the back of the lots on Workman street and will be remodeled for Sunday-school departments, with a seating capacity of about 500. The new auditorium will seat 550, and will be connected with the Sunday-school department by sliding doors, so that the whole may be used in times of great gatherings.

Besides this large seating capacity the building will contain a pastor's study, choir room, ladies' parlors, kitchen, primary and kindergarten rooms. The building will be heated by furnace and will have especial attention paid to its ventilating system.

With a membership of only 300 persons, the effort of yesterday was a notable one. With scarcely any outside help, almost $8000 was pledged; and there were further contributions made at the service last night.

At yesterday morning's service Rev. E. A. Healy, pastor of the University Methodist Church, and a brother of the Asbury pastor, Rev. J. C. Healy, preached a stirring sermon on "Church Building," and this was followed by the appeal for funds for the new edifice. Councilman W. M. Bowen assisted at the service as a secretary, and within a short time the amount named above was pledged.

The old building was erected at a cost of over $7000, and during the pastorate of Rev. D. H. Gillan it was remodeled and enlarged.

STANDING BY CHRIST'S FLAG.

Ringing Lenten Sermon by Dean Wilkins.

On the first Sunday in Lent at St. Paul's Pro-Cathedral, the seat of the Episcopal Diocese of Southern California, the Very Rev. J. J. Wilkins, D.D., dean of the clergy, preached a sermon that will be sure to create a stir in social circles. He deplored the tendency to cover up the badge of Christianity, to speak slightingly of the church and turn the conversation from the Christian theme, in the home, in the salon, in the club. His sermon was full of proof for those professing discipleship, but catering to that sort of thing, the pulpit, in the teacher's chair, or women's clubs or men's meetings. He declared that churchmen should not support any movement over which the flag of Jesus does not or cannot wave.

The subject of Rector Wilkins's sermon was "Ashamed of Jesus." The rector took as his text St. Luke ix, 26: "Whosoever shall be ashamed of me and My words, of him shall the Son of Man be ashamed, when He shall come in His glory, and His Father's, and His holy angels."

After treating concisely the great spiritual law laid down by the Master, Rev. Wilkins said:

"Ashamed of Jesus! It is almost inconceivable. It is quite unbelievable that such a perversion of the moral emotion of shame, the servant and guardian of virtue, should ever be possible; that a feeling, which, in a healthy condition of soul, never emerges save at the call of conscience and our higher nature, should emerge in the association of our faith and hope and love with Him who is the perfect moral Being, the Prime and Flower of men. We should rather suppose that no change of time or circumstance, no pressure exerted on the heart or will, no bodily torture, no anguish of soul, could avail to make a Christian whom Christ has washed with His blood, sanctified by His Holy Spirit and enriched by His example, ashamed of Him. 'God forbid,' we should suppose he could cry, 'God forbid that I should glory save in the cross of Jesus Christ.' And yet, what are the facts? The facts are these: There are Christian shops and offices and workshops in this community where to avow a deep and serious faith in Christ would require a tremendous moral effort. There are institutions of learning, supported for the most part by Christian money and influence, where the Christian youth has not only a hard battle to maintain his Christian faith, but where it is systematically undermined and honeycombed with doubt. There are Christian business men who dare not conduct their business on the half-Christian law of the Golden Rule. There are philanthropic organizations whose function it is, not only to feed the hungry, clothe the naked, shelter the shelterless, make people more happy here, and to educate them to make better men and women; there are such organizations sustained and operated and carried on by Christian people, who affirm practically 'You must not let it be known that this is a Christian organization, you must not speak the name of Christ; you must not refer to the New Testament; you must not bring in your faith in God; all that must be concealed. In order to do Christ's work, you must haul down Christ's flag.'

A FIRM STAND.

"Now, I am profoundly thankful for the great good work that all such people are doing. But when they come to me, and say that we must work in their methods and by their laws; that we must close our New Testament and let the Church of God on one side; that we must lower the banner of the Supreme Philanthropist and Altruist, I refuse. We should not go anywhere so far as in us lies, and we should not allow the church to go anywhere; we should do nothing, we should encourage no society, where we must haul down our colors or deny or shadow our faith in Jesus Christ as the Supreme Helper of men in every department of human life.

"Mark you, we Christians are put into the world, not primarily to feed the hungry, clothe the naked or shelter the shelterless—not primarily to make men and women happier, to give them better intelligence, or even endow them with virtues they do not now possess. We are put into the world to glorify the Father. 'As the Father hath sent Me into the world, so send I you into the world.' 'I have glorified Thee on earth.' That is Christ's work in the world, to glorify the Father, and that is our work.

"Returning to our question, what are the facts? These are the facts: There are lecturers and preachers, who simply because they hint that the Church is a failure, or that Jesus Christ was a man and nothing more, are sure of a Christian hearing. There are parlors, clubs and literary associations where men and women of cultivated minds read and converse, where a frank confession of faith in Jesus Christ would provoke a gesture of measured surprise, a delicate curl of the lip, a scarcely perceptible raising of the eyebrow—all more terrible to a sensitive mind than a charge at Sandiago or Shiloh. 'You do not mean to say that you believe in that, at this time and day!'—that is the language of the gesture and sneer so tentative and yet so implacable, and only too often it does its deadly work.

WHAT MEANS THIS SNEER.

"We are all sensitive to it, and we are all affected by it. But what, after all, is the meaning of this gesture and sneer? Superior knowledge? No, for Christianity has a good account of itself to give in every department of human learning; its scholars are the peers of any that the world has known. High moral principles? No, for it is well known that these abound most where simple faith abounds. That complex simplicity which cannot be resolved into that which is merely moral or intellectual, but which invests its possessor with an indefinable and indisputable distinction? No, for those who enjoy this know far too much of the difficulty and pathos of the realms of thought to sneer even when error most plainly appears. What then does this gesture and sneer represent? Nothing but a sort of extract or essence of a certain form of class opinion, the views of a certain type of philosopher, so called, penny-a-liner, modern newspaper or conceit. A certain section or sub-section of opinion, a certain school of thought, not necessarily the best informed—its knowledge is usually very crass and crude—thinks or wishes others to think that Jesus Christ and His religion have had their day, and the sneer is simply an attempt to enforce the presumption without incurring the labor of a patient discussion.

"'Is it meant then,' you may ask, 'that we are to parade our religious convictions on all occasions, in all places, in all societies, without regard to the proprieties dictated by common usage and forethought?' Is there no danger of irritating and exasperating by such indiscriminating method?' No one precept, I answer, or example, is ever to be insisted upon and acted upon in forgetfulness of others which guide or limit its application. Every duty has its appropriate opportunity, and our oportunity for owning all allegiance to Jesus Christ is when we are challenged to do so, or when not to do so is to give others a false impression of our convictions or deprive others of the power of sympathy and example.

AMAZED AT THE WOMEN.

"Such an opportunity is almost ever with us. Scarcely a day that we do not have to listen or doubt or sneer or se some gesture of dissent from the truths of the Christian faith. Scarcely a day that it is not our duty to speak the good word for Jesus Christ that we do not speak. I read the topics of the women's clubs of our community, and I marvel in dazed surprise how they keep Jesus Christ out of their discussions. 'I congratulate you,' said a member of a literary club of some one hundred and fifty members to the reader of a paper—'I congratulate you upon being the only woman who had the courage to mention the name of Jesus Christ with honor and praise before this club.' I read the proceedings of several art classes of this community, and I cannot but wonder how they can study and discuss the wonderful cathedrals of the old land, those marvels of architectural genius and constructive skill, and not proclaim that their foundations were laid in faith in Jesus Christ, that they were products of deep, intense religious conviction, that no other conviction has produced like results, and that evidently they dreamed not of a perishable home who thus could build. Such are our opportunities for publicly confessing Christ, dear friends, and while Christian prudence must ever be our guide in the use of opportunity, yet Christian duty must never be enslaved by prudence."

NEW GENERAL SECRETARY.

Y.M.C.A. ASSOCIATION GREETS THE STATE EXECUTIVE.

Wilcox Addresses Audience on the Value of High Ideals—One of His First Services in His California Field.

Members of the Y.M.C.A. met their new State secretary, B. B. Wilcox, yesterday afternoon at their meeting in Temple Baptist Church. It was one of Mr. Wilcox's first services in California, and he took as a theme for his talk Paul's earnest declaration to the Philippians: "But this one thing I do, forgetting those things which are behind, and reaching forth unto those things that are before, I press toward the mark for the prize of the high calling of God in Christ Jesus."

Said Mr. Wilcox in his address: "Paul's life looms up before the historical observer like the line of a great mountain range against the sky. It was a life of great ambitions—from his earliest years he had meant to accomplish things. Paul as a young man was one of the greatest students of his age; Paul's record in citizenship stands out clear and distinct; he was a tower of strength in the tumultuous political affairs of his day. He alone might obtain permission from high authorities to go unchecked and persecute the Christians with all the ardor of his zealous nature.

"I want to impress on you today the value of ideals. Have you high ideals? Have you started each day with a determination to make a success of the duties of that day? There is not a man who cannot make a success of life. Paul did the duty first at hand. Carlyle said that the duty first done made the next easier.

"Paul had definiteness of aim. I wish that we could get the young men to leave this room with a determination to accomplish some one thing in the next week. Make the most of your week! Be sure that its influence is for good. If it is not for good, you are injuring someone else, for every man casts a shadow. I know that many a fellow says: 'My record is not influencing anybody—what I may do has no bearing upon men or affairs, for nobody looks to me for guidance.' That is not so. No matter how invisible, there are some to whom every man's example is a moral precept.

"Next, Paul loved the work that he was engaged in. If there is anything that is indicative of success, it is that very love of one's work. I pity the man who is unhappy at his daily work. He doesn't amount to much; he does not amount to much; he doesn't accomplish much; he is a disappointment to his better nature and everybody else who looks to him to make a man of himself. There is no work wherein one cannot be happy—it is all God's work, and whether in the factory or the shop, in the store or office, if you are doing that which benefits humanity you are doing it for God, and you are benefiting yourself thereby.

"Paul urges that it is time for us to wake to our responsibilities. 'The night is far spent, and the day is at hand,' he cries. Do you know what that illustration means? Paul well knew what he was saying; he applied it to one of the great Roman camps, where the soldiery spent the night in shameful debauchery. This was his cry to the young man of his day, couched in language that was familiar to them. Have you tried and failed? Do the succeeding mornings find you fallen, fallen again and again? Then, as Paul also says in his soldierlike metaphor, 'Put on the Lord Jesus Christ as your armor, and you will stand!'"

Next Sunday it is hoped that an orchestra will assist the able quartette which has had the music in charge. Rev. Dr. Ezra A. Healy will be the speaker of the afternoon.

THOUGHT GIVES LIFE.

Melvor-Tyndall's Psychic Science Lecture, on Elixir of Life, of Absorbing Interest.

Blanchard Hall was filled yesterday afternoon at the fourth of the series of psychic science lectures by Dr. Alexander J. McIvor-Tyndall, the most practical and scientific demonstrator of the marvelous who has ever visited the city. In his lecture, "The Elixir of Life," the speaker robbed the expression of its ancient cloak of mystery and magic. He showed that the alchemists, popularly supposed to have been in league with demons, were merely scientific investigators who probably knew of a substance corresponding to our newly-found radium.

He quoted the learned Paracelsus as saying that within the human will would be found all the properties that have been attributed to the "philosopher's stone," making the employment of the "stone" itself unnecessary to the generation of the famed "elixir." With this view Dr. McIvor-Tyndall agrees, claiming that Paracelsus, Albertus Magnus and other sages doubtless realized the power of thought as a life-giving agent. The entertaining experiments in the power of thought were made with marvelous accuracy and precision.

Next Sunday afternoon Dr. McIvor-Tyndall will talk on "How Thought Can Kill," giving further demonstrations of his psychic powers.

MEN

We are Specialists for Varicocele, Hydrocele, Stricture, Piles, Fistula, Blood Diseases, Contracted Diseases, Private Diseases, Loss of Vital Power, Kidney and Bladder Troubles.
Our Success Unquestioned
By our advanced and improved methods we are making cures in cases that have been unfortunate in consulting incompetent men. Our examinations of cases submitted to us are so thorough and searching that errors of diagnosis are impossible—thus all our treatments are understandingly, based on the most thorough researches of medical science. Remember that CONSULTATION IS ALWAYS FREE.
Varicocele
WE GUARANTEE AN ABSOLUTE AND PERMANENT CURE in every case we treat of varicocele. We will defy any man wishing to be cured by leading business men of Los Angeles we have cured. This is a fair GUARANTEE of a cure, and is more than they can be said of any other varicocele.
Weakness.
This trouble—the bane of many men's lives—we cure. Our treatment is quick, effective and the cure sure and permanent. We take pleasure in making a free examination for every man who calls for consultation. Don't neglect your case, the sooner and the more thoroughly you have it examined the better. Call at our office, write us for particulars or send for question blank. Consultation free. Office hours, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and 7 to 8 p.m. Sundays, 10 a.m. to 12 m. only.
Contracted Diseases and Blood Troubles
These troubles are thoroughly understood by Dr. Harrison and his associates. For over twenty years they have successfully treated this class of diseases. Experience, founded on a thorough medical education, has brought to their command methods by which they can positively promise a cure.
NOTE THE FOLLOWING
Dr. Harrison & Co. will sign and deliver a written contract to any patient agreeing to cure his case before receiving a dollar for treatment.
Our Journal can be had without charge for the asking, at the bottom of our stairs to the right. It contains much valuable information which cannot be had elsewhere. Help yourself to one, or write us and we will mail it.

Has your trouble become chronic through neglect or improper treatment? Half the failures to cure is due to guesswork methods. The reasonable explanation of many conditions in the form of chronic troubles, due to improper measures, and many are living in conditions which, to-day, do not treat symptoms.
I Accomplish More in One Week By Treating the "EXACT CAUSE" than can ever be accomplished by guessing through the stuff.
Those who take my treatment are cured. Personal treatment and facilities adapted to the requirements of the foundation for quick and permanent cures. I wait for my fee until you are cured.
VARICOCELE—I cure it in 10 to 15 days. Many men have tried in vain successfully for varicocele. Why not spend it painlessly and the results complete and forever.
STRICTURE—I cure the right way, once and for all. Painlessly, no cutting, no dilating, no internal medicine. I remove the cause, cure the inflammation, restore the natural action, and make you a healthy condition, usually in 30 days.
CONTRACTED TROUBLES—I have the remedy to quickly cure these conditions. One to three days cures for gonorrhoea, gleet, stricture, etc. My treatment is the most effective and prompt for the cure of these troubles. Call or write. Consultation free. NEW COMBINE OF THEATERS.

Biggest Trust Bucker Yet Put in Harness.

Headquarters in Los Angeles and Powerful Syndicate.

Western Pacific Playhouses Will Land Big Shows.

Morosco, who has just returned from a week's business conference in San Francisco, brings with him news of one of the most important amusement combinations ever affected in the West.

The new organization is called the Pacific Coast Independent Theater Booking Association, and is a combination of managers of many of the leading Coast theaters for the purpose of booking their attractions independent of the theater trust.

It has been formed to establish a circuit for the convenience of large companies which do not secure their time through the booking office of the "trust" in New York City. Mr. Morosco is general manager of the association. Other officers are Walter S. Bishop of San Francisco, president; J. P. Howe of Seattle, vice-president; L. M. Bishop of San Francisco, secretary.

According to the local manager the new association is a strong one, and back of a fortune invested in playhouses from the northern to the southern terminus of the Pacific field. It books directly fourteen theaters in larger cities, and is a factor in the bookings of a number of others. The cities affected are Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, San Francisco, Oakland, Sacramento, Tacoma, Portland and Seattle. Two new theaters will be built for the combination

Walter S. Bishop controls the new Majestic theater in San Francisco, which will open April 4 with Isabel Irving's company, playing "The Crisis." Los Angeles is building another theater which is said to be one of the finest in the West, and which will be named after the Royal Theater in London. Mr. Morosco has his own Burbank Theater here, and proposes to build the section of another theater in the near future. Besides, he is interested in the management of the Garrick Theater, Chicago, and is lessee of the Victoria theater at San José.

Mr. Morosco said yesterday of the combination: "We are waging no warfare against anyone. The object of the association is merely to be free to book attractions we desire without the consent of any 'syndicate' and to be able to secure these attractions without paying large tribute in the form of booking fees. It is purely a business proposition, and for what we conceive to be the best interest of our houses. The seventeen theaters now controlled by our association are a very powerful factor in Pacific Coast amusement circles. We will endeavor to play the best companies at prices that are right. Our method has been tried and found satisfactory, and we simply intend to return to the original method of allowing every man to run his own house. The managers in the association have ample financial backing and before the organization was consummated, received positive assurances of the support of many of the leading productions, which it is their intention to bring here next year. The time booked for our theaters is principally in so-called 'big' shows for several weeks. This includes all attractions in the control of David Belasco, Leslie Carter in 'Du Barry,' Mrs. Fiske, Minnie Maddern Fiske in repertoire, Isabel Irving in 'The Darling of the Gods,' Weber & Fields, Minnie Maddern Fiske in repertoire, Isabel Irving in 'The Crisis,' Clara Lipman in 'Sweet Kitty Clover,' Charles Richman, William Faversham, Louis Mann and W. H. Crane.

"These companies will all appear in Los Angeles next season. I hope to have our new theater ready for them, but whether it is or not they are coming just the same and will have a place found for them in the Burbank stage. I believe next year will be the most successful in the history of Western theatricals."

Manager Baker of Portland is in conference with Mr. Morosco in the interest of another playhouse in that city.

ARTISTS RECEIVE.

Delightful Longpre Home Thronged With Visitors—Walter Russell's Child Pictures.

It was hard to say which formed the greater attraction at the De Longpre residence yesterday, the flowers or the children. All the afternoon visitors, many from Eastern cities, strolled through the paradise that is laid out by the flower artist, admiringly at the flock of dainty fairies that trooped in the bright vistas.

The little mother who brought her children sought Walter Russell, the painter, and he was encased by a group of youngsters and admirers out in the garden, until darkness drew near, at 6 o'clock. Among the portraits which Mr. Russell executed out of the twelve children he has chosen as the best in the United States, is in the reception hall of Longpré home, and attracts a great deal of attention. Two of the subjects are girls and one a boy. They are all fitted about his garden the afternoon and gracefully all to "make themselves

Late in the afternoon the party left Los Angeles to Hollywood, beyond its capacity by the unique arrangement. The sparse car service was no inconvenience going to the exquisite floral display at Hollywood and the aptness of the name banished the thought of disagreeable.

The homeward home was thrown open for the inspection of all, and the artist's own exquisite delight by all.

Among those some high compliments for Southern California were introduced to him, and that he was more than pleased with the development of the country. He kept them all guessing prettiest with quaint and did not fail to win the

ROUSE MAKES NEW CHARGES.

SENSATION IN SAN BERNARDINO RESERVOIR SCANDAL.

City Engineer Alleged to Have Been Offered House and Lot—Inspector Said to Have Other Bombs to Explode Soon.

SAN BERNARDINO, Feb. 21.—Inspector Rouse has come forward with renewed charges in the reservoir scandal. He alleges that the company which received the contract for installing a new water system here offered City Engineer Rasor a house and lot free of all incumbrance if the latter would make certain concessions. This is one of the most sensational charges yet made, though it is understood the inspector has numerous others, and that three other officials of the city will divulge some things quite apart from the letting of the several contracts which have been made possible under the $300,000 water bond issue.

Rouse declares that Rasor approached him with a proposition by which the former was to take the position of pipe inspector while the work of installing the water system was in progress. "It will be a nice, easy job," Rasor is alleged to have said, "and I can show you how to do it in thirty minutes. The contractors are easy people. Why, do you know, they have offered me a house and lot, all paid for."

"And what are you going to do about it?" asked Rouse, to which he quotes Rasor as replying: "Well, I haven't really made up my mind."

Rasor denies this alleged conversation, and he has numerous friends who give his assertions weight. One of the peculiar charges connected with the reservoir is that a well-known saloonkeeper is alleged to have made an advance of money to a contractor on condition that the contractor make all the pay checks he issued to his employés payable over the saloon man's bar, and in this way the latter got back all he advanced and a large amount besides.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Rapidly order is coming out of confusion at the County Hospital. Last night all the bed-fast patients, seventy-one in number, slept on cots in the hospital annex, used as a dining-room and kitchen, and all the inmates able to move about were housed in tents on the hospital grounds. Superintendent Meyer is highly praised for his heroism in braving the fire to save patients, and to make sure that all his charges were out of the building. Dr. Huff, former superintendent, also did valiant work in rescuing patients.

The County Board of Education has issued to certificate to teach to Miss Adelaide Minor, on a diploma from Stanford University.

Judge Bledsoe yesterday sold in court a seventh interest in a lot on the south side of Sixth street, between D and E, for $141. Mrs. Nellie Leeper was the successful bidder. The interest belonged to the John Ward estate.

Edward Hensley, Frank George, Edward Dennis and Frank Bell, who were sent to the County Jail from Colton for vagrancy, have employed an attorney to commence habeas corpus proceedings for their release.

J. M. Snodgrass, medium and "rainmaker," was released from the County Hospital yesterday under promise that he would leave the locality.

THE TIMES IN SAN BERNARDINO.—A. W. Isenour, authorized agent, headquarters near cigar and news stand, N.W. corner Third and E streets. Subscriptions and advertisements taken. The paper is not handled in San Bernardino by W. H. Eadie, nor in the store of L. D. Houghton. For fear of the hogleman (the walking delegate) these persons refuse to keep the paper for sale, thus weakly yielding to the bluff of the boycotters and the threats of the local labor-unionists. Isenour, however, stands fast, the same as before, and independent citizens may always be served by him with their favorite journal.

RIVERSIDE.

MANY TOURISTS MAKE GAYETY

RIVERSIDE, Feb. 21.—Excursions galore are here, and the hotels report an unprecedented run of business. Yesterday afternoon two large parties came in on Raymond-Whitcomb excursions. They are New Englanders. One party has been in Mexico, and the other came direct from the East. A Nason & Russell excursion is scheduled to arrive tomorrow and another Raymond-Whitcomb crowd will arrive Wednesday. A small Simmons & Worsters party came today. The coming of these pleasure-seekers has added much to the gayety of the social season and daily there are teas, dances and outing parties in automobiles, on horseback and in tally-hos.

CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR MEETING.

Today the Christian Endeavor societies of this city and surrounding country held a big rally. Several State officers and prominent workers in the organizations were here. During the day some of the visitors went to San Jacinto on an automobile and held short services. The Epworth League and B.Y.P.U. societies joined in the meeting.

As a result of the visit of Miss Laughlin, a lawyer from New York, a Woman's Suffrage Club has been organized. Its officers are Dr. Louise Harvey Clarke, president; Mrs. Rose Wheeler, secretary and C. A. Post, treasurer. A meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Col. H. A. Plimpton tomorrow evening, to perfect the new organization.

Washington's birthday will be observed here by the closing of schools, the city and county offices and banks and other business houses. There will be horse racing at the grounds of the Riverside Driving Association. In the evening the members of the Riverside G.A.R. Post and the W.R.C. will have a joint session in place of the meeting of the Red, White and Blue Club, the women's patriotic organization.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

Today evangelistic services were begun at the First Methodist Church by Evangelist Charles F. Barrett of Delaware, O.

Architects are making plans for two handsome new business blocks which will soon be in course of construction. One is to be built by a Pennsylvania syndicate, at the northeast corner of Main and Tenth streets, and the other will be built by A. K. Skelley, at the corner of Eighth and Orange streets.

A practice game of polo will be had tomorrow afternoon, at Chemawa Park by members of the Riverside Polo Club and visiting polo players.

Dr. Albert Shaw of the Review of Reviews is here for a few days.

Today's tourist arrivals: Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Blades Newbern, N. C.; Mrs. Etta Stacy, Leeton, Mo.; Wallace Gedney, Worcester Mass.; James W. Kincaide, De Graff, O.; O. S. Jackson, Laramie, Wyo.; C. A. AGED MAN TAKES POISON AND DIES.

LOST HEALTH MAKES SANTA ANA MAN DESPONDENT.

Mind Believed to Have Been Unbalanced by Sickness—Inmate of County Hospital—Boy Accidentally Shot While Hunting.

SANTA ANA, Feb. 21.—Despondent because of ill-health of long standing, Matthew M. Lemke took his life at the Santa Ana Hospital late this afternoon by swallowing a spoonful of strychnine. Efforts to save his life were futile and he died in agony a short time after it was discovered he had taken the fatal dose. Deceased was 69 years old, has no relatives or friends here and leaves but little property. For years he has been a sufferer from incurable diseases, which, it is believed, had unbalanced his mind. For several months he has been in the County Hospital here and was only recently transferred to the Santa Ana Hospital. An inquest will be held tomorrow.

SHOT WHILE HUNTING.

John Gray, a seventeen-year-old boy of this city, was accidentally shot in the thigh while hunting in the foothills east of here Friday evening by a bullet from a 22-caliber rifle in the hands of J. Rosser, who was hunting with him. No serious results are expected from the wound, which is in the fleshy part of the thigh.

HOLDING LIMAS FOR FANCY PRICE.

QUARTER MILLION SACKS RESERVED BY THE FARMERS.

Price of Three Cents Net Does Not Tempt Them—Expect Far East War Will Cause Greater Demand and Attendant Advance.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

VENTURA, Feb. 21—The Southern Pacific and Santa Fé shipping men have recently made a round-up of the Lima beans still held in the hands of farmers in this county and report that 225,000 sacks are still held for sale when the price reaches the point the grower thinks he ought to get. A well-known bean buyer puts the figure at 250,000 bags. This is what is left out of a total output of 550,000 sacks. The loss in reclearning was considerable. One reason given for broken beans was the use of eastern thrashing machines shipped into the county. The loss in broken beans was considerable, in some instances going as high as 10 per cent. Limas are up to 3 cents net. The Ventura farmers who hold Limas are not tumbling over themselves to sell at any price. The growers who hold this quarter of a million sacks can well afford to hold them, and see a possibility in a swift advance in price because of the war in the Far East. They notice an encouraging firmness and are prepared to hold until war demands add a few more cents on the pound. A well-known grower said a few days ago: "I am not selling Limas at 3 cents just now. Besides the war, we are not so certain of rains for a crop the coming year, and I don't know that 3½ cents would tempt me, even if five inches more rain was assured." This is the general feeling among bean men and it is this which has tied up 250,000 sacks of succulent Limas in Ventura county."

GARTHY FREED.

A sanity commission sitting with Superior Judge Ewing in the C. E. Garthy case yesterday turned the defendant loose. Illness and a general breaking down of his system by work led to his arrest. He was stationed at Moorpark as a section foreman. He became nervous and feared that something might happen to him mentally. Accordingly he asked his companions at Moorpark to look out for him and secure him.

SANTA MARIA.

SANTA MARIA, Feb. 21.—A desperate character named Merriman, was arrested here Wednesday by Deputy Sheriff Bloser on a warrant sworn to by H. Nicholson of Paso Robles. Merriman shot Nicholson and made his escape. He was located in the local tenderloin district. The prisoner was taken to Paso Robles for trial.

The Pinal Oil Company, operating south of here, had established a temporary reservoir by throwing up a dam near one of its wells, and in which 600 gallons of oil were stored for delivery to the roadmaster of this district. The unusual rainfall washed the dam away and the oil stored has been lost.

The firm of W. A. Haslam & Co. has taken in two new members, C. W. Lincoln and Dean Laughlin.

John B. Shipley, aged 74 years, died Friday and was buried from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. J. W. Bond. Lemuel McCroskey and Miss Edna home of the bride's parents by Rev. William Clague.

Dr. H. C. Bagby has been called to St. Louis, Mo., on account of the death of his mother.

The Guadalupe school has been ordered closed on account of an epidemic of measles. Out of seventy-five children fifty are kept home by the disease.

BAKERSFIELD.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

BAKERSFIELD, Feb. 21.—Senator E. J. Emmons has received word from the State Supreme Court that the judgment of the Superior Court of Kern county in the case of Francisco Ochoa, found guilty of murder in this city, has been affirmed.

Ochoa was tried before Judge Conlay of Madera county, who was called into the case in 1898, and sentenced the defendant to be executed. An appeal was taken. The case was argued three times before the Supreme Court, which yesterday sustained the lower court, and Ochoa, who has been confined in San Quentin, will be returned to Kern county for resentence. An effort will be made to have the Governor commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

OXNARD.

OXNARD, Feb. 21.—There has been a systematic pilfering of small articles from the merchandise stores in town and yesterday two Mexicans in Lehmann & Waterman's store were caught with the goods on their persons. They were promptly arrested and will be brought to trial before Judge Harris.

Two important realty transfers of the past week are the sale of the O. J. Coen place to J. Goela for $2800 and the sale of the Tillottson property for $3000 to J. W. Parish.

George Dennis of Ventura, in charge of the Ventura county exhibit at the St. Louis Exposition, has been in town procuring the display from the American Beet Sugar Company.

Rev. D. Hewitt, the young Baptist minister who has been "the supply" in the Baptist Church for the last few weeks, has taken a permanent pastorate in Santa Paula.

SAN LUIS OBISPO.

FARMERS ARE BUSY.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SAN LUIS OBISPO, Feb. 21.—All over the country the farmers are using every avilable team in the plowing of their land and many who had given up hope of a crop this year will seed large tracts. The wheat and barley sown before the recent rains are up and growing rapidly.

Charles Jones, who today completed a term in the County Jail, was at once rearrested and taken to San Ardo to answer to a burglary charge.

Mrs. M. C. Kreger of Santa Barbara, District Deputy Grand Matron of the Eastern Star, visited Corona Chapter last night.

J. B. Townsend has built a 600,000 gallon reservoir to catch the rain and water of the spring storms for storage.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Brown left today for their home in Ottumwa, Iowa, after a visit with R. B. Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Ware of Colusa are guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Greenleaf.

THE SAME OLD STORY.

A Remarkable Instance of What Custom Does.

When a man finds that he is played out he is apt to be discouraged. Mormon Bishop's Pills are the most immediate and permanent remedy for nervous and weak people. They cleanse and vitalize the system, remove all matter that is detrimental to mental and physical action. They are sold at 50 cents per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at Off & Vaughn Drug Co., 304 S. THE GOVERNOR COMES TO TOWN.

TO BE AT CHAMBER OF COMMERCE BANQUET TONIGHT.

Throws up His Hands When Asked About the Much-mooted "Camino Real" Scheme and Doesn't Care to Talk Politics—As to Rain.

Gov. Pardee, accompanied by Mrs. Pardee, arrived in the city last night on the 10:45 Coast Line Limited. He was met by William D. Stephens of the Chamber of Commerce Reception Committee and was taken to the Westminster.

When interviewed the Governor was gracious, as usual, but said he had simply dropped down to attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight, and had little to impart.

Asked what his views were on the much-discussed Camino Real enterprise, he threw up his hands in despair.

"Don't know a thing about it," he protested. "If somebody will find out what the actual route of the old 'Camino' was, then I will be better able to form an opinion on the subject."

"Who is your choice for Senator?" he was asked.

"I have no choice," replied he.

As to the State's condition, the Governor was free to admit that part of the State had benefited from the recent rains—and part of it hadn't—and there you are!

The Governor was not expected until this morning, but came down earlier to have a night's rest before the function tonight.

WERE THEY JOBBED?

There is rankling in the hearts of the ball players of Hotel Green, who were wiped off the diamond on Saturday by the Raymond Hotel team to the tune of 16 to 0. The Green boys cry foul. There has long been great rivalry between the two clubs. Each had won two games. The "rubber" each side was confident of folding in its own gripsack. The Raymond boys were particularly confident. It is said that just before they played they came up town with their pockets bulging with money that said victory would perch on their banner. Several hundred dollars in bets were made, the Green boys having the courage of their convictions.

When the game was called there were several hundred spectators, among them "rooting" girls from each hotel, displaying the respective hostelry colors. And here's where the "job" is alleged to have come in. The Raymonds had, it is declared, hired Capt. Dillon and two of his Los Angeles professional league players. Dillon played second and his henchmen acted as battery. They of course had things their own way with the amateurs, and the Greenites are tapping empty pockets and crying for revenge.

HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT.

No play at the operahouse, professional or otherwise, has made such a hit in recent years as that scored by the "House That Jack Built," which has been twice given by the pupils of the public schools and will be repeated this evening. Young and old have taken a keen delight in both performances.

The curtain rises upon a garden scene, and from behind the trees and shrubbery where they have been concealed come tiptoeing a host of tiny fairies who dance about until they discover the charming little cottage of Mother Goose, when they break out in a chorus of delight and wonderment. They scamper away when Mother Goose comes out, and then follows a little dialogue between Mother Goose and her son Jack, in honor of whose birthday she intends giving a party.

After making out an impromptu list of guests to be invited, Jack departs to give the invitations, and Mother Goose also goes "to market" to buy the refreshments. During their absence the naughty Blackbirds, after much scheming and "cawing" at the suggestion of the Knave of Hearts, steal the keys of the pantry where the Humpty Dumpties (eggs) have been placed; this they do in mischievous revenge, as they have discovered that they are not to be invited to the party.

Later the guests begin to arrive—Bo-Peep, Boy Blue, Jack and Jill, Jack Horner, Mother Hubbard, and a host of others, all characters with whom we are familiar, and the introductions in chorus, pantomime and dance bring the first act to a merry close.

When the curtain rises again, it is upon the scene of the lawn fête; the company of guests are resting after their games, and the moon rises slowly over the tops of the trees. The second act is opened with a dance, followed by much excitement, the capture, trial and sentence of the blackbirds, the banishment of the Knave of Hearts, etc.

ORNITHOLOGICAL MEET.

The Southern Division of the Cooper Ornithological Club will hold an open meeting in the assembly hall of Throop Polytechnic Institute Thursday evening, Feb. 25, at 8 o'clock. A programme of short, popular papers has been prepared which are intended to be of interest to everyone, amateurs as well as more advanced bird students. The following subjects will be presented: "What Bird Life Has Been to My Life," Dr. Garrett Newkirk; "The Wrens," J. Eugene Law; "Birds of Westlake Park," Harry S. Swarth; "The Water Birds at Home," O. W. Howard; "Mother Carey's Chickens," Prof. Joseph Grinnell. Everybody interested is invited.

NEWS NOTES.

The inquest upon the body of Rev. I. T. Whitmore, who was killed Saturday in an electric railway accident in North Pasadena, will be held this evening at 7 o'clock. Rev. Mr. Whitmore's funeral will take place Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at the Presbyterian Church, Rev. M. J. McLeod officiating. Interment will be made in Mountain View Cemetery.

Mrs. Eva Lowe, a native of Prince Edward Island, died yesterday morning at No. 1065 South Marengo avenue. She had been here four months, and leaves a husband in New York City. The funeral will be held this afternoon at 2 o'clock.

Dr. D. B. Van Slyck, who was recently very ill with pneumonia at the Pasadena Hospital, has entirely recovered.

George K. Abbott, M.D., has just arrived from Battle Creek, Mich., and is stopping with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Abbott at No. 443 North Pasadena avenue.

Mrs. W. J. Foulke has been taken to the hospital on account of an injured ankle.

Five arrests were made yesterday by the police for fast driving of automobiles within the city limits. Those arrested were Henry Gavin, George W. Stimson and Glen Hack of Los Angeles and J. Daniels and H. T. Kendall of Pasadena. The five men were driving separate machines, and deposited $25 each for appearance in Police Court Tuesday. Oscar Otto was arrested for exceeding the speed limit on a motorcycle while speeding on North Fair Oaks avenue.

LORDSBURG.

BRIEF ITEMS OF INTEREST.

LORDSBURG, Feb. 21.—The large auditorium of Lordsburg College was crowded last night at the meeting of the Occidental Literary Society. A musical and literary programme was followed by the debate: "Resolved, that Women Should Have the Right of Suffrage." The affirmative was argued by Miss Hileman and Melvin Johnson. The negative side, suported by Miss Anna Nelson and David Kuns, Jr., won.

Rev. D. D. Benedict, an evangelist from Iowa, preached to a large audience at the Methodist Episcopal Church today, and will hold revival services in that church during the week.

Rev. E. Cole and wife of Bloomington, Ill., are guests at the home of L. C. Meredith at La Verne. Mr. Cole is a prominent Quaker minister.

HOPE TO MAKE NATIONAL FIGHT.

GREAT CRUSADE AGAINST VICE STARTED IN LONG BEACH.

Rev. Sidney C. Kendall Outlines Plan to Interest Christian People of the Nation in Stamping Out Traffic in Girls.

LONG BEACH, Feb. 21.—The first gun in what is expected to develop into a national crusade to prohibit the traffic in girls was fired in Long Beach this afternoon, and a great crowd of people thronged the tabernacle to listen to the plan outlined by Rev. Sidney C. Kendall of this city. Mr. Kendall believes the time at hand for a national campaign against this sin. Within the past few days he has received letters from several prominent workers in Eastern cities, asking for definite instructions in regard to conducting the campaign. Circulars have been prepared and thousands of them will be forwarded to all the large cities of the country. Mr. Kendall explained that the law is powerless in suppressing this vice until public conscience is aroused. Rev. J. W. Phillips of Los Angeles was present, and explained how the work in that city had been conducted, that the campaign had been a complete success, and that the "redlight district" was no more. A large collection was taken to defray incidental expenses, and many persons volunteered their services to assist in the clerical work necessary.

NOTES AND PERSONALS.

At an inquest held by the Coroner today over the remains of Samuel McCoy of Riverside, it was found that deceased came to his death from natural causes. Harley Smith, a stepson, came today and took the remains to Riverside.

J. Elinor, a member of the Chicago Board of Trade, is at the Julian.

F. W. Pitcher of New York City is here. He has large mining interests in Colorado.

Miss Morris of Minneapolis, Minn., is here.

Mr. and Mrs. Goodman of Columbus, O., arrived from Los Angeles in their tallyho this afternoon.

CLAREMONT.

HOLD CHURCH IN "WASH."

CLAREMONT, Feb. 21.—This morning, before church, the young women had a meeting in the "wash," led by Miss Brown, State Y.W.C.A. secretary. Each girl took a pillow and all sat around on the ground. Miss Brown spoke on the "Beatitudes" and Miss Lathrop of the freshman class sang a solo. Miss Brown also led a meeting tonight in the Sumner Hall parlor.

Rev. Henry Kingman occupied the pulpit of the Pilgrim Congregational Church of Pomona, this morning.

Rev. George Edmund Soper of the First Congregational Church of Pomona city, preached here this morning.

SAFE CRACKERS AT OCEAN PARK.

DRILL STICKS AND THEY MISS TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS.

Ocean Park Meat Market Visited by Professionals Who Almost Wreck Safe in Vain Effort to Force Heavy Doors.

OCEAN PARK, Feb. 21.—Some time during Saturday night safe crackers attempted to break into the 4000-pound safe in the Ocean Park Meat Market, and but for the fact that their drill became fast they would have secured the $300 cash in the safe.

The robbers entered the building through a window in the rear. They drilled near the combination broke the dial, cut the thread and tried to force the inside plate with a long pressure-colt. In doing so they stripped the thread and could not remove the bolt. They were obliged to abandon the job, and left a part of their outfit in the room.

The work was undoubtedly done by professionals. The safe is so damaged that the services of an expert will be needed to open it.

Aside from the tools, which afford no clew, the robbers left nothing by which their identity can be traced. Officers are working on the case, but the criminals effectually covered their tracks.

GLENDALE.

VARIOUS NEWS NOTES.

GLENDALE, Feb. 21.—Ray E. Goode, Cover Melrose, Webster Greene, Arthur Bary, Edwin Adams, Chester Craig and Charles Lund, comprising the basket ball team of the Glendale Union High School, went to San Fernando Saturday and defeated the Fernando High School team by a score of 8 to 4.

Little Ralph Taylor, son of Postmaster Taylor, while playing on Third street Saturday, ran in front of a cycler riding at a high rate of speed, and was thrown down and severely injured, the pedal cutting his head and face.

The Executive Committee of the Glendale Improvement Association met at the home of E. D. Goode, Friday evening, and made plans for a musical and literary entertainment in connection with the regular business meeting to be held Friday evening, March 4. J. W. Jeffries of the Horticultural Commission, addressed the meeting on the organization of improvement associations, and also the advantages of incorporating them.

UNIFORM WATER LAWS.

The Need for Revision Felt in Many of the States and Action Should be Taken.

An interesting instance of the way in which the operations of the Reclamation Service may assist in securing uniform State laws is contained in the fact that Gov. George E. Chamberlain of Oregon has recently appointed a commission to draft a bill which will modify the existing water laws of that State in such a way as to make them harmonize with the provisions of the Reclamation Act.

Need for similar revision of water laws is felt in other States, and it is hoped that Oregon's example will be followed in all the States affected by the Reclamation Act. That such revision would simplify the problems of the Reclamation Service is a fact accentuated by an opinion recently delivered by Fred Campbell, Assistant Attorney-General, concerning the legality of withdrawing public lands from settlement.

The director of the United States Geological Survey had recommended that all lands within a half mile on each side of the center line of Salmon River, Okanogan county, Washington, together with the water flowing on them, be withdrawn from further disposition, as they are required for engineering works contemplated under the provisions of the act for the reclamation of arid lands. Mr. Campbell declared, however, that there is no authority to make such executive withdrawal of public lands in a State as will reserve the waters of a stream flowing over them from appropriation under the laws of the State, or will in any manner interfere with its laws relating to the control, appropriation, use, or distribution of water.

He based his opinion upon section 8 of the Reclamation Act, which states that in carrying out the provisions of the act there shall be no interference "with the laws of any State or Territory relating to the control, appropriation, use, or distribution of water used in irrigation, or any vested right acquired thereunder," but that the procedure shall be in "conformity with such laws." A withdrawal of waters from appropriation under the State and Territorial laws would be in direct conflict with the provisions of this section.

Mr. Campbell advised, nevertheless, that the land be withdrawn, so that the rights of the United States as proprietor of the land may be protected as far as the reservation of land will protect and preserve such rights.

DEATH OF FAMOUS MARRYING JUSTICE.

HON J. C. MURPHY of Chicago died at the Sisters' Hospital yesterday from the effects of injuries sustained by falling from a moving street car about ten days ago. His death had been expected, in fact, it was a source of wonder to the attending physicians that he survived as long as he did. In getting off the car he did not wait for it to come to a stop, and slipped, his head striking the pavement with great violence. He was unconscious when picked up and was immediately removed to the hospital in an ambulance.

At the hospital the physicians found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain and there was also unmistakable evidence of the rupture of a small blood vessel within the skull. The surgeons were unable to locate this and therefore unable to relieve the slowly-increasing pressure upon the brain, which kept the patient unconscious most of the time. Until within two days of his death it was possible to arouse him for a time, but he would return into a comatose state, taking nourishment only when it was held to his lips. As the end approached he lost consciousness entirely, and yesterday he breathed his last so peacefully that those about his bedside could hardly determine when the spark of life had been extinguished.

The body was removed to Bresee Bros.' morgue, where the Coroner will hold an inquest after which the remains will be shipped to Chicago. The wife of the deceased is expected to reach Los Angeles today. She was summoned by wire several days ago and later was notified not to come. When she started a second time it was too late to see her husband alive.

Justice Murphy was a familiar figure about the county buildings in Chicago and was known to all the officials. His specialty was performing marriage ceremonies. He united many hundreds of couples.

With his son he came to California several weeks ago, hoping the change of climate would benefit his health. It was his intention to remain here until the rigors of a Chicago winter had given way to the warmth of spring. He had a number of friends here, who after he was injured, did everything possible to save his life.

Drink Water Freely at Meals

Not iced water—pure water at natural temperature. Some say there is no room for food when there is such an amount of water in the stomach, the strength of the gastric juice is lessened, etc. Fool talk! The gastric juice is always strong and needs dilution. Water does not remain in the stomach—drinking it freely quickens the appetite—strengthens digestion—washes away the substances for which the system has no further use.

This morning at the Mason Operahouse the sale of reserved seats will open for the song recital next Thursday evening by Mme. Blauvelt, that charming American woman and world-famous soprano.

Fire in a Flat.

Burning waste paper which fell from a grate caused a fire in a two-story flat at No. 222 South Figueroa street at 2:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon. The flat is occupied by Mrs. C. W. Woodward, some of whose belongings were ruined. The loss will not exceed $50.

Pioneer's Funeral.

The funeral of David E. Thompson, the Sierra county pioneer, who died in this city Friday, occurred at the undertaking rooms of Orr & Hines yesterday afternoon, services beng under the auspices of Los Angeles Lodge, No. 42, F. and A.M. Interment was at Rosedale.

Skipped With the Change.

Roy Peacock and the police are trying to find G. D. Bennett, for whose arrest a warrant will probably be issued today on a charge of embezzlement. Peacock is manager of the Coffee Club lunch room, No. 113 East Third street. Yesterday he gave Benneett $10, telling him to get it changed. Bennett forgot to return or send back the money.

Patriarchs Militant.

Tonight in Odd Fellows Hall officers of Canton Orion, No. 12, Patriarchs Militant, I.O.O.F., will be installed by Brig.-Gen. H. O. Brower of San Francisco, assisted by Col. C. W. Buker of San Diego. Those installed will be J. A. Wilcut, captain; E. J. Baldwin, lieutenant; H. E. Love, ensign. An inspection will follow the ceremony. Saturday night a canton was instituted in Santa Barbara.

Automobile Club Roms.

At a meeting of the directors of the Los Angeles Automobile Club held on Saturday night, it was decided to furnish permanent club rooms at No. 712 South Broadway. The quarters are to be fitted up in handsome style, the decorations to carry out the automobile idea in every way. H. D. Ryus was elected vice-president of the club, and plans for several long runs in the near future were discussed.

Robbed a Rancher.

H. D. Meyer, a rancher whose home is in the vicinity of Cucamonga, reported to the detectives yesterday that on Friday night he had been robbed in his room in a lodging-house on South Main street near the Mott Market. He went to sleep in the place, carefully locking his door. When he awoke he discovered that the door was unlocked, the key in the door and his watch and chain and $30 missing. The thief was equipped with key-nippers.

Wiggins Back.

Frank Wiggins returned yesterday from a trip north on World's Fair business. He says that the first California exhibits to be shipped to St. Louis consisting of the mineral and forestry displays, will be sent on next week. He hastened back to be present at the Chamber of Commerce banquet tonight. All holding tickets to the event are requested to be at Turner Hall promptly at 6 p.m.

Oil Stove Exploded.

The explosion of a coal-oil stove in a small frame building in the rear of the Santa Rosa House at Fourth and San Pedro streets about 6:20 o'clock last night started a fire which for a time threatened that establishment with destruction. Patrolman Lennox discovered the fire and his prompt action in fighting the flames before the firemen arrived prevented a more serious loss. The room in which the fire originated was destroyed with most of its contents.

Large Oil Buy.

An oil deal of considerable importance was closed Saturday by the sale of thirty acres of land in the southwestern section of the home field. B. G. Adams was the purchaser of the tract, and it is stated that he represents parties who will develop the ground on an extensive scale. The Rommell Oil Company sold the tract for a named consideration of $30,000. The sale is one of the first large oil deals recorded in this field for some time and is considered indicative of renewed activity in the section. The purchasers also secured a complete drilling and pumping outfit.

Lumber Compact.

Railroad and steamship men of this city stated last night that the agreement of the Pacific Coast Company to discontinue the lumber business if the lumber schooners would cease carrying passengers, was ratified at a meeting in San Francisco Friday night, and that this deal, which has long been a conjecture, has now been officially confirmed. J. C. Ford of the Pacific Coast Company and W. E. Pierce of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company are said to have been present at the meeting. It is not believed that this agreement will materially effect freight rates on the lumber business from the north.

Mule Kicked Him.

Thomas Donnelley died yesterday at the County Hospital from the effects of injuries sustained Thursday night by being kicked by a vicious mule. He was a laborer employed on a grading contract by Ramish & Marsh, and while trying to fasten a broken trace behind a mule the beast began kicking, planting its iron-shod hoofs several times on the man's abdomen. The blows caused the rupture of several blood vessels, which resulted in internal hemorrhage. The physicians had no hopes of the man's recovery from the first, but he lingered three days in great agony. He was nearly 60 years of age.

Mobe Enthusiast.

C. B. Hale arrived at the Van Nuys, Main, last night in his Winton touring car from Santa Barbara. As a result of the trip he is enthusiastic on the subject of the King's Highway. "It will be a great mistake if that proposition is not carried out, and carried out now," he said. "We left Santa Barbara at 7 o'clock this morning and arrived here at 6 o'clock this evening and a more delightful day I never spent. The crossing of the two passes, Casitas and Cahuenga, affording the wonderful ocean views, the long stretches of valleys with the high mountains in the background and the cool shady cañons make to my mind the most enjoyable and varied trip in all Southern California. El Camino Real must be built." With Mr. Hale were his wife and two daughters and Miss Gray. Mr. Hale is a retired capitalist and lives at Santa Barbara. He has made the journey from that place to San Francisco in his auto.

"Airy Fairy" at Ascot.

There will be "sometings toing" when the stars of Weber & Fields's company go out to Ascot Park Friday afternoon in five decorated automobiles. It is to be Weber & Fields's day at the park and you may picture the beautiful Lillian Russell and her $2000 purp on the front seat of the leading skidder. Choice boxes have been reserved; a committee of the Los Angeles Jockey Club will be on hand to greet the musical constellation, and the affair will be in the nature of a public reception. Ned Greenway, the Beau Brummel of San Francisco, will accompany the troupe on its trip south and will occupy the honorary auto. Others in the party will be Mr. and Mrs. Charles Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Charles J. Ross, Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Dally, Lew Fields, Louis Mann, Lillian Russell's sister and Manager McBride. They will ride in White automobiles. Later in the afternoon the guests will be taken through the principal residence portions of the city and on the following morning an early start will be made on a trip to Pasadena and Baldwin's ranch. Two special cars of the Pacific Electric have been chartered to take the sixty pretty girls and twelve men to Ascot, and all in all, a royal time is awaiting Weber & Fields in Los Angeles.

GIRL HE LOVED SAW HIM DIE.

CALHOUN SHOT HIMSELF ON HER UNCLE'S DOORSTEP.

Dramatic Suicide of Los Angeles Man in Norwalk—Had Forsaken His Wife and Become Infatuated With Young Woman.

As a result of his infatuation for Pearl Groover of No. 1462 East Twenty-second street, and his inability to marry her, Percy A. Calhoun, 28 years of age, of this city, committed suicide in Norwalk early yesterday morning by shooting himself through the head. The deed was done on the front porch of Dr. J. S. Groover's residence, in the presence of the girl he loved.

Miss Groover went to Norwalk Saturday to visit her uncle, Dr. Groover, and was followed there by Calhoun, who appears to have been madly in love with her, although he had a wife and child living on East Twenty-second street. Accompanied by some of her relatives, Miss Groover attended a dance Saturday evening near Norwalk, and upon returning to her uncle's home about 2 o'clock Sunday morning she met Calhoun, who had also been at the dance. After saying a few words Calhoun drew a revolver and flourishing it in a threatening manner, vowed that he would kill his sweetheart unless she would marry him. The young woman did not think he was serious and treated his actions coolly, whereupon Calhoun placed the revolver to his own head and fired.

Calhoun was formerly in the employ of the Berlin Dye and Cleaning Company of this city, but had been working for the Home Telephone Company recently. He and his wife had been separated for nearly a year and divorce talk had been made on both sides, but no action was taken. Miss Groover was also employed in the office of the Berlin Company and it was there that Calhoun first met her. Friends say that Calhoun's attentions became annoying to her, and she spurned him; then Calhoun resorted to alcoholic stimulants for consolation until at times he was considered insane. He threatened to kill himself several times.

The Coroner was notified yesterday of the suicide and will go down to Norwalk today to make an investigation.

First Showing of Spring Waists Now Ready
Machin tailor-made waists are always considered clever and original in style, but this season we have succeeded in bringing out a line that far eclipses all previous efforts. Whites, greys and Scotch effects are the popular colors, while silks, mercerized brocades and jacquards lead among the fabrics. But a glance at our window, then a few moments spent inside looking them over, can tell you more of their style and beauty than we could in a whole newspaper, so we'll just invite you to COME SEE THEM.
And when you come to look at the waists, we'll show you a swell new line of Bulgarian embroidered neckwear in stylish and clever conceits for spring wear. These are quite the rage and you shouldn't miss seeing them even if you don't buy. But you'll buy if you once see them.
